AFTER TWITTER, META MULLS LARGE-SCALE LAYOFFS: REPORT

Facebook's parent firm, which has around 87,000 employees, will start issuing pink slips this week, The Wall Street Journal reported

ONE OF THE LARGEST JOB CUTS IN BIG TECH

WSJ said the layoffs could come by Wednesday, adding that all staff have already been told to cancel nonessential travel beginning this week. The number of Meta employees losing their jobs could be the largest to date at a major technology corporation in a retrenchment year. It would also be the first broad head-count reductions in the firm's 18-year history, it added

META CEO HAD DROPPED HINTS LAST MONTH

- Last month, Meta CEO Mark Zuckerberg had said the company's focus would be "small number of high-priority growth areas"
- "Some teams will grow meaningfully, but most others will stay flat or shrink over," he said, adding that "There are probably a bunch of people at the company who shouldn't be here." | P15

3 Ayes, 2 Nays. EWS quota upheld

Minority verdict by CJI and Justice Bhat says it violates basic structure of the Constitution

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

IN a landmark verdict on Monday, the Supreme Court by 3:2 majority upheld the the 103rd Constitutional Amendment that granted 10% reservation to the Economically Weaker Section (EWS) in admission to public and private educational institutions and recruitment in central government jobs.

Since the EWS excluded socially and economically backward classes (SEBCs) /OBCs /SCs/STs from its ambit, the legal question was whether it violated the basic structure of the Constitution and the equality code. While justices Dinesh Maheshwari, Bela M Trivedi and J B Pardiwala found the EWS quota kosher, Chief Justice of India U U Lalit and Justice S R Bhat called the amendment unconstitutional.

"The impugned amendment and the classification creates, is arbitrary, and results in hostile discrimination of the poorest sections of the society that are socially and educationally backward, and/or subjected to caste discrimination. For these reasons, the insertion of Article 15(6) and 16(6) is struck down, is held to be violative of the equality code, particularly the principle of non-discrimination and non-exclusion which forms an inextricable part of the basic structure of the Constitution," the minority opinion said.

But Justice Maheshwari opined that since reservation is an enabling provision, it could not be regarded as an essential feature of the Constitution and thus the doctrine of basic structure could not be invoked against it.

"Exclusion of the classes covered by Articles 15(4), 15(5) and 16(4) (SEBCs/OBCs/SCS/STS) from getting the benefit of reservation as EWS, being in the nature of balancing the requirements of non-discrimination and compensatory discrimination, does not violate Equality Code," he said.

Justice Trivedi said the amendment created a separate class of "economically weaker sections of the citizens" from the general/unreserved class, without affecting the special rights of reservations provided to the SCs/STs and backward classes. Underscoring the need to lay emphasis on revisiting the system of reservation in the larger interest of the society, she said, "We need to revisit the system of reservation in the larger interest of the society as a whole, as a step forward towards transformative constitutionalism."

Justice Pardiwala said the amendment signifies Parliament's intention to expand affirmative action to hitherto untouched groups.

"If economic advance can be accepted to negate certain social disadvantages for the OBCs [Creamy Layer concept] the converse would be equally relevant," he said.

Justice Bhat in the 101-page judgment for himself and the CJI said, "Introducing the economic basis for reservation — as a new criterion, is permissible. Yet, the "othering" of socially and educationally disadvantaged classes — including SCs/ STs/ OBCs by excluding them from this new reservation on the ground that they enjoy pre-existing benefits, is to heap fresh injustice based on past disability." CM WELCOMES VERDICT

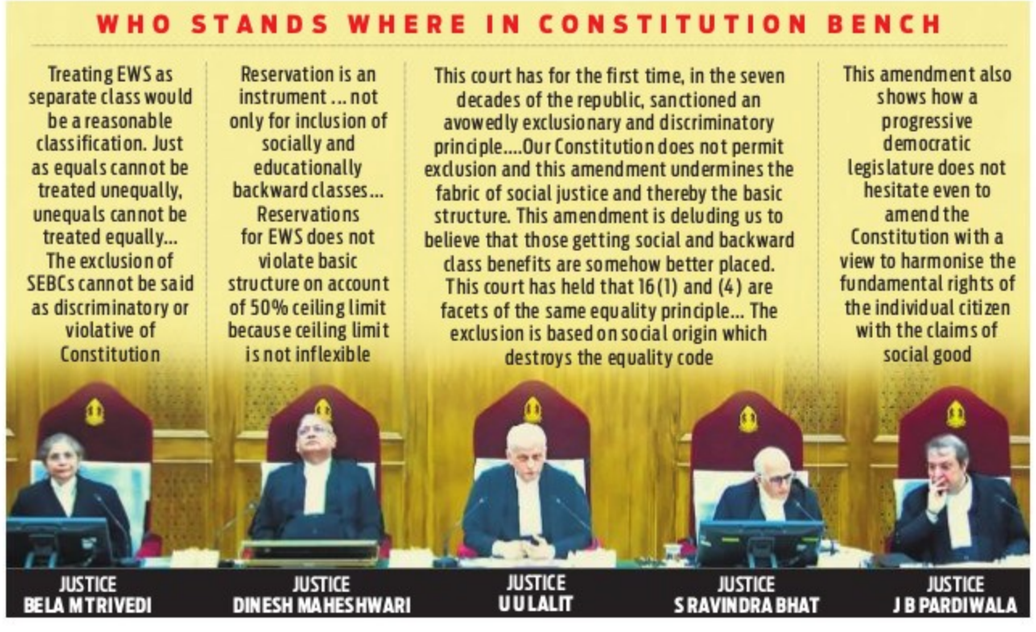
CM Basavaraj Bommai on Monday welcomed the Supreme Court verdict upholding 10 per cent reservation to EWS, saying this will ensure inclusive growth, and is a ray of hope for the upper caste poor.

WHO STANDS WHERE IN CONSTITUTION BENCH



Treating EWS as separate class would be a reasonable classification. Just as equals cannot be treated unequally, unequals cannot be treated equally... The exclusion of SEBCs cannot be said as discriminatory or violative of Constitution
Reservation is an instrument ... not only for inclusion of socially and educationally backward classes... Reservations for EWS does not violate basic structure on account of 50% ceiling limit because ceiling limit is not inflexible
This court has for the first time, in the seven decades of the republic, sanctioned an avowedly exclusionary and discriminatory principle....Our Constitution does not permit exclusion and this amendment undermines the fabric of social justice and thereby the basic structure. This amendment is deluding us to believe that those getting social and backward class benefits are somehow better placed. This court has held that 16(1) and (4) are facets of the same equality principle... The exclusion is based on social origin which destroys the equality code
This amendment also shows how a progressive democratic legislature does not hesitate even to amend the Constitution with a view to harmonise the fundamental rights of the individual citizen with the claims of social good

Fugitive arms dealer Bhandari's extradition approved by UK court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

IN a move that could pave the way for extradition of Sanjay Bhandari, a UK-based Indian arms dealer accused of tax evasion and kickbacks in a weapons deal, a London court on Monday ruled that he can be sent to India to face the charges. District Judge Michael Snow, who heard the case at Westminster Magistrates' Court earlier this year, concluded that nothing barred his extradition to India and forwarded the case to Home Secretary Suella Braverman, who is authorised to sign on the extradition order.

Bhandari, who is likely to challenge the order, is accused of defrauding Indian income tax authorities between July 1, 2015 and February 7, 2017, by deliberately omitting foreign assets and income. In January 2022, there were reports that Bhandari's Dubai-based Offset India Solutions was found to be linked to a €2.4 billion IAF Mirage fighter jet upgradation deal in 2011 and another ₹3,600 crore agreement for acquiring helicopters from UK's AgustaWestland in 2009.

Bhandar is also accused of money laundering.

According to the extradition papers, Bhandari was a middleman in the Pilatus trainer aircraft deal and paid kickbacks to Indian Air Force officers and defence ministry officials to influence the decision to purchase 75 basic trainer aircraft from the Swiss manufacturer in 2009.

Bhandari left India after a case was filed against him under the Official Secrets Act in October 2016, based on the recovery of confidential defence ministry documents during an I-T department raid at his residence. He was arrested four years later in London on July 15, 2020, following an extradition request from India.

Partial chargesheet against seer

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chitradurga

THE district police have filed a partial chargesheet against Murugha Mutt seer Dr Shivamurthy Murugha Shanaru, hostel warden Rashmi and former secretary of the SJM educational institutions Paramashivaiah in a Pocso case based on the allegations by two minor girls of the hostel run by the mutt.

Addressing media persons, SP K Parashuram said on Monday that investigation is still going on against the third accused, who is a minor, and the fifth accused Gangadharaiah, an advocate. "A complete chargesheet will be filed after completion of the probe," he said.

The SP, however, refused to comment on the issue of children being given drugged fruits and sacred water, saying the matter is under FSL investigation. He said FSL authorities have submitted some reports and more reports are awaited.

On allegations against the seer of rape and murder of a child, whose body was found on railway tracks at Hindupura in Andhra Pradesh, the SP said that it was an accident and the case has been closed. Parashuram said if there are more victims, they can come forward. The district police have also taken the help of the Child Welfare Committee and Odanadi organisation in the probe.

Satish Jarkiholi under fire for his 'dirty' take on 'Hindu' word

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

KPCC working president Satish Jarkiholi has come under fire from various quarters, including his own party, for calling "Hindu" a "dirty" word. He was trying to interpret the origin of the word 'Hindu' while addressing a gathering at a programme organised by Manava Bandutva Vedike at Nipani on Monday.

The ruling BJP, terming Congress as "anti-Hindu", questioned if his statement is the party's stand too. "Is Congress trying to consolidate its vote bank by speaking against Hinduism?" BJP tweeted.

Besides leaders from various parties, AICC General Secretary in-charge of Karnataka, Randeep Singh Surjewala, also condemned Jarkiholi's statement in strong terms, saying on Twitter: "The statement attributed to Satish Jarkiholi is deeply unfortunate and deserves to be rejected."

He posted, "We condemn it unequivocally. Hinduism is a way of life and a civilisation reality. Congress built our nation to respect every religion, belief and faith. This is essence of India (sic)."

While attempting to hit out at those involved in doing communal politics in the name of Hindu and other religions, Jarkiholi said in Nipani, "Where did the word 'Hindu' come from? It is not our word, but originated from Persia, which had earlier spread in Iraq, Iran, Kazakhstan and Uzbekistan. How is this region linked to India and how did the word 'Hindu' become your word? Check on WhatsApp, Wikipedia...the term is not yours. If you come to know the meaning of it, you will be ashamed. Its meaning is very dirty. The word Hindu is being imposed on us." P4

Boy hurt in road rage may lose vision, accused at large even after a month

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

ELEVEN-year-old Aditya (name changed), a class 5 student, faces the risk of losing vision in his right eye which was injured in a road rage incident. He has already received 20 stitches on his cornea. Aditya sustained the injury after a broken window glass piece pierced his right eyeball during an assault by a scooterist on October 15. What is baffling is that it's been almost a month and the accused is still at large.

The boy was sitting in the back seat when the scooterist broke the car's window. The victim's father filed a complaint at the Jayanagar Police Station.

Aditya, along with his parents, had gone to a hotel. His father, a software engineer, had parked his car on 11th Main in Jayanagar IV 'T' block. After they returned around 7 pm, the boy's father was unable to remove his car as a scooter was blocking the way. The accused, who is an engineering student refused to remove his vehicle. When the techie tried to take the car out, it hit the scooter which fell down. Enraged by this, the accused ran behind the car and smashed its left rear windowpane. A glass piece pierced the boy's eye. "The scooterist was extremely arrogant and rude. After I took my son to an eye hospital, the staff of the hospital themselves registered a medico-legal case and informed the matter to the jurisdictional Jayanagar police," the boy's father told TNIE. KIA EXPANSION

₹13K cr pumped into Terminal 2, related infra

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AN investment of over ₹13,000 crore has been pumped into the massive expansion planned for the Kempegowda International Airport (KIA), the first phase of which will be launched by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday morning. This covers Terminal 2, the second runway, a multimodal transport hub, expansion of access roads and internal road infrastructure. A spokesperson of airport operator, Bangalore International Airport Limited (BIAL) told The New Indian Express, "We are looking at operating domestic aircraft initially. We will gradually start operating international ones too," she said.

While the first phase of the second terminal will add 25 million passengers, the second phase will add 20 million passengers, the spokesperson added. The total terminal area will be 2,55,645 square metres with 17 security check-in lanes. There will be a seating capacity for 5,932 in the gate lounge seating.

"The second terminal is a dedication to the beautiful city of Bengaluru," she said. T2 is set to be an architectural wonder with lush greenery within and outside. "It will be an innovative experience at various points by providing calming gardens in areas of high stress," the spokesperson added. CONTINUED ON: P2

Sisodia's aide Arora to turn approver in Delhi excise scam

AMIT MUKHERJEE @New Delhi

IN a setback to the Aam Aadmi Party ahead of the Gujarat elections, Delhi deputy chief minister Manish Sisodia's close aide and a co-accused in the Delhi excise policy case, Dinesh Arora, has moved the special court to turn an approver. In his application before special judge M K Nagpal, Arora said he has taken the step on his own volition and not due to any coercion or influence.

In its response, the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI), which is probing the alleged excise policy scam, told the court that it has no objection to Arora turning approver adding that he "cooperated" with the agency during the investigation.

The special court is expected to record Arora's statement on November 14, the next date of hearing.

Travel in style: Chennai to Mys in 6 hrs 36 mins

16-coach train has two executive coaches

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

HISTORY was created at KSR Bengaluru railway station at 10.21 am on Monday when South India's first Vande Bharat Express, on its first trial run from Dr MGR Chennai Central station, entered platform 7. Within nine minutes, it departed and reached Mysuru at 12.14 pm, taking 6 hrs and 36 minutes to cover the 499.56 km between Chennai and Mysuru, 15 minutes faster than Shatabdi Express.

Around 50 officials of Southern Railway and South Western Railway, who got on board at Katpadi Junction or at KSR, were part of the maiden trial run of the fifth edition of the Vande Bharat. "It was a very successful run," said Bengaluru Divisional Railway Manager Shyam Singh.

The 16-coach train comprises two executive coaches and two cabs (for loco-pilots) on either side. Describing his experience, a senior official, who was on board the train, said, "The passenger comfort and safety is good, without any jerks. Every system has a backup, and in case of failure of supply, there will be parallel supply from another side."

Railway officials arrive at the station ahead of the trial run

Another official said that the experience was much better compared to Shatabdi. "It takes just 52 secs to go from 0 to 100 kmph. IRCTC catering will be provided after the train is launched. Passengers will have three hot cases (for heating food) with 11 trays for each coach. Two water bottle coolers will also be available," he said.

Chief Public Relations Officer, SWR, Aneesh Hegde said, "The Vande Bharat is equipped with the Kavach (Train Collision Avoidance System) for enhanced safety along with four emergency windows in every coach. It can reach 160 kmph in just 140 seconds." The train began its trip from Mysuru at 1.05 pm. It stopped at KSR at 2.45 pm and departed for Chennai 15 minutes later.

Dog stuck on Metro tracks rescued

Bengaluru: Quick action by volunteers, BBMP and BMRCL helped rescue a dog stuck on the Garudacharpalya Metro tracks late on Sunday. BMRCL has been carrying out trial runs between Whitefield and ITPL Metro stations here, on its ORR line. According to a release from Mahadevapura Task Force, a member of the group received an SOS message at 7pm Sunday, about a dog on the Metro tracks. As soon as the message was received, the group contacted civic agencies. "Over 20 calls and a few conference calls were held between the BBMP, BMRCL and volunteers. Following this, the traction team of BMRCL switched off high-tension power from the third rail to keep the dog safe," the release said. The rescue team began work at 9pm but had to discontinue as it was dark. "Rescue mission commenced again on Monday morning, and the dog was rescued safely. It was sent to Cartman hospital and is being tended to," the release added.

PM's visit: BBMP in express mode to finish work

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH Prime Minister Narendra Modi scheduled to visit on November 11 to flag off Vande Bharat Express from Mysuru to Chennai, the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) is now speeding up its Rs 8.7 crore white-topping work at Majestic near Bengaluru City Railway Station.

The work on one side of the route has already been completed.

According to the BBMP engineers, they had sent a letter to DCP West and also to the Bengaluru Traffic Department to allow them to undertake the milling work before concretising, but since the VVIP movement has been planned, the police have denied permission as it might hit traffic and create commotion during PM's visit.

"Since the PM will come from Okalipuram Road and enter through the back gate to reach platform seven to flag off the Vande Bharat, the BBMP will now go ahead with its plan to fix Gubbi Thotadappa Road and the road opposite the station. To ensure work is over soon, the Palike has engaged workers as potholes keep cropping up on this stretch," said a BBMP engineer.

"The milling work will be underway for two more days, and the police have said that once the PM leaves, the Palike will concrete the remaining stretch."

Regarding work by other civic agencies like BWSSB, BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said, " The water board makes payment to the Palike for road cutting but it should repair it back to its original shape after the work is done."

483 BAGS OF SOIL COLLECTED FOR KEMPEGOWDA THEME PARK

Bengaluru: Following the Kempegowda Heritage Area Development Authority's appeal to collect soil from 13 districts to build the 23 acre theme park around the 108 feet Kempegowda statue, hundreds of followers came with bags of soil from their wards, villages and handed it over to volunteers at Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP). Mahesh KB, a leader from Hemmigepura in Yeswanthpur assembly, came with a bag of soil collected from Kodipalya grama deity and handed it over to the Bengaluru South deputy president of BJP at BBMP office. From the Bengaluru Parliamentary segment alone, 483 bags of soil have been collected and on Tuesday, a truck dedicated to the central parliamentary segment will be stationed at BBMP head office to collect soil, and transport it to the theme park.

BACK ENTRANCE OF KSR RLY STATION TO GET A FACELIFT

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE much-neglected shabby entrance on the Magadi Road side leading to the back entry of the KSR (Bengaluru City) railway station will get a complete overhaul ahead of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's scheduled visit to platform 7 to flag off the Vande Bharat Express. Half of the main railway station road on the front entry was also blocked on Monday for laying a new road, inconveniencing passengers.

When TNIE visited the back entry on Monday evening, there were many earthmovers, and personnel were working using temporary electrical connection. "The Railways will be spending Rs 10 lakh to lay a new road from the road leading to the back entry to the booking office. We are working for the last three days, and will be working through the night to tar the road," said a source.

The tube lights leading to platforms 7 and 8 were being replaced with new ones. "The cables will be sealed and tucked inside a layer above," a source said. The roof on both the platforms, from where the train will be flagged off, were being given a new coat of green paint.

The booking office has been cleaned up. "We have given it a fresh coat of paint just yesterday," said an official. Existing furniture from the executive waiting room were removed, and new set will be brought in.

The Special Protection Group visited the entry on Monday and later held a meeting with top officials while RPF officials in large numbers were on patrol 24x7 at the back entry with VIPs visiting the spot continuously to check the facilities.

IMPLEMENT RAJA RAO PANEL REPORT, FORUM TO TELL BOMMAI

Bengaluru: A delegation of Karnataka Senior Engineers Forum is expected to call on Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai demanding that the report of the committee which was headed by retired chief engineer Capt Raja Rao Committee on the maintenance of roads in Bengaluru under the BBMP limits, be implemented. "We will submit a memorandum with a comprehensive report on the situation of roads and also suggest solutions," said the president of the forum Raja Rao during a seminar, while regretting that the city roads have become death traps due to lack of maintenance. Delivering his lecture, engineer D Prasad said he felt that though initial investments might be marginally higher, the life cycle cost of roads which are white topped are viable and economical. White topping is a long-term solution which is sustainable for the pavement considering the vagaries of weather, he said.

08TH November : Can I remind you about the 'Cosmos' project. This is intended to create a new form of space travel, taking us to other planets. The idea is space-ships will travel through space on huge sails, driven by tiny particles that we call the 'solar wind'. It's our best chance of environmentally-friendly, low-cost space flight!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Celestial pressures will hit you in the wallet if you're not careful. This is not the last time I'll warn you about the perils of financial mismanagement, but I'll also remind you of the good you can do. It's all a matter of keeping your eye on the ball - and taking nothing for granted!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Your hopes may be slightly unrealistic, but there's nothing wrong with optimism. Others may find your enthusiasm infectious, and the impact on your social life should be very welcome indeed. Anyone who comes into contact with you will benefit from your positive approach - and you'll bask in the glory.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Nothing is ever quite as it seems. You may have been labouring under some kind of misapprehension, but I don't think you have been completely wrong in all respects. There's therefore no need to feel too embarrassed or regretful. Besides, favourable financial deals add to the spirit of optimism.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Individualistic and independent Cancerians are favoured, rather than those of you who tend to follow the herd. In any event, there seems to be plenty of scope to enjoy yourself and every opportunity to have a party. Don't wait for other people to take the lead - or you might have to wait for ever!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Expect agreement over contentious issues, but only if you are prepared to lay yourself on the line. If you hold something back then I am afraid that partners, children, friends and associates will instinctively realise that you're not being entirely straight.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Even if you feel shut in a corner and unwanted, there really is a great deal going for you. For one thing, a mystery which may have been unsolved for many years is about to be cleared up. You may even have forgotten what it was you didn't know in the first place!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Although I know you tend to worry about your financial security, I also know that there is every reason to feel hopeful about the future. You may not have to do anything to make a windfall come your way. But you will have to keep your eyes open - otherwise it might pass you by.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
If you are in a negative mood, then you may be attracting difficult circumstances. Astrology, you see, assumes that ultimately we are all much more responsible for our own destinies than we at first imagine. Adopt an optimistic attitude and you could attract a much better class of event!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Money can become an all too-consuming passion, not because of your astrological character at birth, but on account of the current planetary disposition. You're as happy to give as to receive and you'll be a soft touch for any charity. And good for you!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You'll give advice only when, and if, you are asked for it. The point is that although you have been through a great deal, you have not yet fully understood enough to be able to tell others what they should do. Wait until you know exactly what's what before making your next move.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
A temporary advantage could soon become a personal route to permanent success. This is why your timing must be perfect and your appreciation of circumstances extremely acute. Complacency is not permissible at the moment: you have to stay very alert if you are to catch every passing offer and invitation.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You find it hard to know who to trust and what to believe. That's hardly surprising, for other people are not exactly sure what they are doing. If I were you, I'd trust my instincts as never before. But, then, you're not me! That's why you must judge your own affairs with such great care.

EDUCATE TEENS AGAINST HAVING SEX WITH MINOR GIRLS, HC TELLS GOVT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has recommended that teenage boys, especially in Class 9 and above, be educated on the consequences of love affairs leading to charges of rape and sexual assault under the IPC and Pocso Act. Youngsters who elope with minor girls and are involved in physical relationships with them do not know the punishment they will face for violating the law, especially as the girls' parents are bound to oppose such marriages and also file complaints. Lack of knowledge of the law is no excuse, the court said.

A division bench of Justice Suraj Govindaraj and Justice G Basavaraja directed the principal secretary of the education department to constitute a committee to formulate suitable material to educate students, and direct government and private schools to raise awareness and forewarn them about the consequences of violating the Pocso Act or IPC. The court said the aim and objective of the Pocso Act is to protect minor children from sexual exploitation. Even if a girl aged 16 or more gives her consent for sex, it would be an offence under the IPC and Pocso Act. Therefore, the Law Commission of India would have to rethink the age criteria, the court added, pointing out that it has come across several cases relating to minor girls above 16 years falling in love and having intercourse after eloping.

The court explained that criminal law would be set in motion to prosecute the boy after he is traced, though both the boy and girl may be living happily in a different city when a complaint is lodged in such cases. The prosecution of a minor girl or boy, or a boy who has attained majority, causes harm and injury to both families, besides severe financial loss, the court observed.

Often, the complaint is filed in the heat of the moment, and family members later turn hostile and do not support the prosecution, the court said. The court passed the order while dismissing an appeal by Uttara Kannada police against acquittal of a boy who eloped with a minor girl, later married her in January 2017 and is living happily with their two children.

"EVEN though the police were aware of the incident, it took time for me to file the complaint as I was worried about my son. My son has undergone two surgeries and a few more surgeries are required," the boy's father, a resident of an upscale apartment on Hosur Road, told TNIE. The boy has been advised complete rest and is likely to return to his classes only in January."The suspect is yet to be arrested. We are examining the CCTV footage to identify the scooterist who damaged the car. Even though the incident happened on October 15, the complaint was filed on November 1," said a police official. Police have registered a case of causing grievous hurt by dangerous means along with other sections of the IPC.

Police probe neighbour's role in former IB officer's murder

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

WITH the Mysuru police establishing that the hit-and-run death of retired Intelligence Bureau officer R N Kulkarni was in fact a planned murder, the investigation has now turned to the role of the victim's neighbour in the case. The police have also taken three people into custody for interrogation.

The police had initially registered a hit-and-run case, but confirmed it to be a planned murder as CCTV footage showed an unidentified car swerving and knocking down the victim who was on an evening walk in the University of Mysore campus. While the police launched a search for the car, the complaint given by Kulkarni's son-in-law Sanjaya pointed the needle of suspicion to the neighbour Madappa. A source from the probe team confirmed that the special team constituted to investigate the murder has shifted its focus to the involvement of Madappa. "We found that the vehicle number, which Kulkarni had given when he suspected a possible attack on him in the past, belongs to Madappa. The team is looking into other aspects as well along with details of the driver and if any 'supari' was given to kill him," said a probe team member.

Sanjaya, in his complaint, claimed that his father-in-law had a clash with his neighbour over the latter not maintaining minimum setback area while constructing a two-storied building. Kulkarni had given a complaint to MCC regarding the building bylaw violation by the neighbour and also approached the court with a miscellaneous appeal.

The Mysuru City Corporation had decided to demolish Madappa's 2-storied under-construction building for allegedly violating the laws. Kulkarni was involved in a legal battle against Madappa over the violations.

Man attacked with iron rods by wife's ex-colleague

ENS @ Bengaluru

A 30-year-old man was brutally attacked with iron rods by his wife's former colleague and two other men on Kanakapura Road. The victim, Mahesh Kumar, a resident of Maralavadi on Kanakapura Road, was working with a private factory in an industrial area on the outskirts of the city.

The main accused, Manjunath, employed at a private firm in Harohalli industrial area, had been pestering Mahesh's wife to marry him. When she told her husband about the harassment, he visited his wife's workplace and warned Manjunath, leading to a fight. Mahesh told his wife to stop working. Frustrated that he could not meet the woman at their workplace, Manjunath hatched a plot to kill Mahesh so that it would clear the path for him to marry her.

"The victim was returning home on his bike when the men threw chilli powder on his eyes and attacked him with iron rods. He managed to run inside a farmhouse on Kanakapura Road," the police said.

Ahead of polls, govt wooing voters through 2 housing projects

ASHWINI M SRIPAD
@ Bengaluru

EYEING the 2023 Assembly polls, the state government is likely to launch two ambitious housing projects in December and expect to get Prime Minister Narendra Modi for the inauguration on December 2. The first is a scheme to build one lakh houses for the urban poor and the other is the residential township at Suryanagar on Bengaluru outskirts.

Some of the beneficiaries of the project, taken up under the Rajiv Gandhi Housing Corporation Limited to build one lakh houses, will get their houses. Under the Suryanagar project, 30,000 families will get sites. Housing Minister V Somanna told TNIE that the government is planning to get the Prime Minister to inaugurate them. "I will discuss it with Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and take a decision."

The one lakh housing scheme was announced by the Siddaramaiah government in 2016. Since then, four chief ministers, including the incumbent Basavaraj Bommai, and four housingministers — M Krishnappa, UT Khader, MTB Nagaraj and V Somanna — have come to power, but have not got the project through. In May last year, Somanna, who was also the housing minister during the BS Yediyurappa government, announced that the first batch of 6,000 houses will be handed over on August 15. But nothing happened. "At present, over 8,000 flats are almost complete and ready to be occupied. Another 52,000 flats are at various stages of completion. It is coming up in 535 acres," he said.

> At present, over 8,000 flats are almost complete and ready to be occupied. Another 52,000 flats are at various stages of completion. It is coming up in 535 acres
>
> V Somanna, Housing Minister

Official sources said there was a proposal to inaugurate it on November 11 when Modi is in Bengaluru. But due to his hectic schedule, it was deferred to December. "We were told that there should be no loopholes. Bommai is keen and monitoring it personally," the sources said.

Suryanagar phase 3 and 4, which are decade-old, are aimed at developing 30,000 sites. The project is coming up in 1,938 acres. Officials, who are sceptical that it could be inaugurated in December, said they are developing basic infrastructure and the works are likely to be completed in February. "They may symbolically launch it in December and start allotting sites only from February," the official said.

BJP plans 2 rath yatras after Jana Sankalpa rally: Bommai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Udupi

THE Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) state unit will take out two rath yatras in Karnataka after the completion of the ongoing Jana Sankalpa Yatra, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said on Monday.

At the party's Jana Sankalpa Yatra at Kaup near here, Bommai said while one rath yatra will cover the constituencies in South Karnataka, the second will travel across constituencies in North Karnataka. The rath yatra will cover all the 224 Assembly constituencies, he added.

On Jana Sankalpa Yatra, he said, "We will cover all the constituencies in the state and we have started the second phase of the yatra in coastal districts. Strengthening the party by bringing people together in each constituency is our main objective, and the response has been overwhelming. There is a wave in favour of BJP."

'People will reject Cong'

On Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah's statement that people of Karnataka have made a 'sankalpa' (vow) to elect Congress, Bommai said, "He (Siddaramaiah) is under an illusion that Congress will return to power. People rejected them when they were in power. People have not forgotten their internal fights, policy of dividing society and taking Karnataka towards disaster. None of the statements made by him has ever come true. He had said BS Yediyurappa and HD Kumaraswamy will never become chief ministers. He had also asserted that he will be the CM in 2018, but that too did not happen."

Reacting to AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge's statement that he has never seen a more corrupt government in Karnataka, Bommai said, "Corruption was rampant when they were in power and now, they are making such allegations just to cover up their faults. Congress has become synonymous with lies."

Lashing out at Congress, he said people from backward classes have already rejected the party. "For Congress leaders, social justice is just a topic for their speeches," he added.

On the investment front, he said projects worth Rs 2 lakh crore will come up in coastal districts of Dakshina Kannada, Udupi and Uttara Kannada in the next five years.

He said a major share of the investment attracted through the recent Global Investors Meet is in the renewable energy sector and those projects will come in coastal districts.

"Under the Prime Minister Gati Shakti - National Master Plan for Multi-modal Connectivity, ports of Mangaluru and Karwar will be connected to prominent cities. The Union government has sanctioned Rs 1,774 crore under the Sagar Mala programme for the development of ports. It has relaxed CRZ norms for economic development," he added.

Bommai further said steps will be taken to procure parboiled rice produced in coastal districts and distribute it through the public distribution system.

Siddaramaiah, DKS are delusional: BSY

Udupi: Former CM BS Yediyu-rappa on Monday said CLP Leader Siddaramaiah and KPCC president DK Shivakumar should learn to speak facts. Speaking at the Jana Sankalpa Yatra at Kaup, he said, "A few Congress leaders are deluding that they have already become the CM. You (Congress leaders) have no moral right to criticise the PM. People criticised me when I said Rahul Gandhi is a 'bachha' as compared to Modi. Congress tastes defeat wherever Rahul goes." On Modi's visit to Bengaluru to unveil the statue of Nadaprabhu Kempegowda on November 11, he said party workers have decided to bring 3-4 lakh people for the programme and show the PM the strength of the party in Karnataka. "From Chamrajnagar, I will start a campaign along with leaders from North Karnataka... CM Basavaraj Bommai will commence his tour from North Karnataka," he added. ENS

Bommai-BSY relationship has gone sour: Siddu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

CONGRESS Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah on Monday said the relationship between Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and former CM BS Yediyurappa has turned sour of late.

He also hit out at BJP leaders for spreading false narratives about him and KPCC president DK Shivakumar that they are not on good terms. "All of us in Congress are united. My relationship with Shivakumar has always been good," he added.

The former CM said he is under pressure from supporters from various constituencies to fight the 2023 Assembly elections from their respective districts. "I am under pressure to contest from Badami. Thousands of women requested me to contest from there and are exerting pressure on me by writing letters," the Badami MLA said.

He, however, hinted that he will not contest from Badami in 2023 as he is unable to visit the constituency each week, nor he is able to meet the residents to respond to their woes on a regular basis. "It has been two months since I last visited Badami. There are demands from the people asking me to contest from Kolar, Varuna and Chamarajanagar," he said, adding that it is up to the party high command to decide his constituency.

Shivakumar: BJP targeting strong Congress leaders

ENS @ Belagavi

HITTING out at the BJP for projecting him and party leaders Rahul Gandhi and Sonia Gandhi as criminals, KPCC president DK Shivakumar said BJP leaders are harassing those whom it thinks are a threat to their party politically. Speaking to the media in Belagavi for the birthday celebrations of former minister Vinay Kulkarni on Monday, Shivakumar said the BJP targeted all those who were growing stronger politically.

On the murder case in which Kulkarni was one of the accused, Shivakumar said the BJP leadership attempted to hand the case to the CBI, with the intention of fixing him. The state government did so only when investigation was at the fag end, as there was no evidence against Kulkarni, he said.

Reacting to CM Bommai's statement that an investigation should be taken up into projects launched during his (Shivakumar's) tenure as energy minister in the previous government, he said, "Let the CM launch an investigation into all projects of the energy and water resources departments."

Highlighting the lapses of the BJP government, he said he was aware of how a Rs 100-crore project was converted into a Rs 300-crore project, and a Rs 300-crore project was leased out as a Rs 700-crore project. On whether BJP leader Janardhan Reddy would join the Congress, Shivakumar said nobody had contacted him on this issue. However, some other leaders were in touch with him, he said.

'DOUBLE-ENGINE GOVT NEGLECTS THE POOR'

Siddaramaiah said Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who called his and Bommai's a double-engine government, did not come to Karnataka when it witnessed floods, nor did he respond to the problems of the poor caught in the floods. "He is touring Karnataka now as the polls are nearing," he said, questioning the PM what solution he found to the problems related to inflation, allegations of 40 per cent commission and unemployment.

'AMIT SHAH WAS ALSO EXTERNED'

Defending former minister Vinay Kulkarni of Congress, who has been accused in a murder case in Dharwad and externed from the district, Siddaramaiah said, "Home Minister Amit Shah also was accused in a murder case and was also externed. However, Shah is now the country's home minister. Many MLAs, MPs and ministers are accused in murder cases. Unless convicted by the Supreme Court and till the guilt is proved, the accused is considered innocent," he added.

'One SDRF unit for every 3 dists'

ENS @Bengaluru

TO give a boost to disaster response during natural and man-made disaster, the state government has decided to set up one State Disaster Response Force (SDRF) unit for every three districts, said Home Minister Araga Jnanendra. Presiding over the Investiture Ceremony at Raj Bhavan on Monday, he said after many years, 1,547 posts in the Fire and Emergency Services Department are being filled up.

Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot distributed medals to 61 personnel awarded by the President of India.

The office of the Director General of Police; Commandant General, Home Guards; Director, Civil Defence; DGP, Fire and Emergency Services, and Director General of SDRF Karnataka, had organised the event. "The government has provided an aerial platform ladder worth Rs 30 crore to the fire department for emergency response during fire accidents," he said.

Court orders Twitter to temporarily block Cong, Yatra handles

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING allegations of violation of the Copyright Act by misusing the soundtrack of KGF Chapter-2 (Hindi version), a city court directed Twitter to block the official Twitter handles of the Congress and Bharat Jodo Yatra. The court also ordered Twitter to take down three links, which violated the Act.

The owner of MRT Music, which holds the copyright of music of KGF Chapter-2, had recently filed a complaint against AICC general secretary Jairam Ramesh, Congress social media head Supriya S and party national leader Rahul Gandhi at Yeshwantpur police station, alleging that they had lifted the music from the movie for Bharat Jodo Yatra, without seeking permission/license.

The matter was heard in the 85th Additional City Civil & Sessions Court on Monday. Relying on documents produced by the plaintiff (MRT Music) with regard to copyright piracy and considering prima facie material available against the defendants for having infringed the statutory copyright, the court directed Twitter to block the official handles of Indian National Congress and Bharat Jodo Yatra until further orders. Three links that had infringed content were also asked to be removed. The court appointed SN Venkateshmurthy, district system administrator of the computer section, Commercial Court, Bengaluru, as 'local commissioner' to conduct an electronic audit.

Satish: It is my personal interpretation

TWITTERATI came down heavily on Jarkiholi, condemning his statement and accusing him of trying to misinterpret history. Several said Congress leaders should first read the Vedas properly and understand the actual origin of the word 'Hindu'. Several Twitter users sought an apology from the Congress party for Jarkiholi allegedly insulting the Hindus.

Meanwhile, Jarkiholi issued a clarification via Twitter saying he had spoken about the origin of the word 'Hindu' based on write-ups in Wikipedia and articles by various authors. He said it was his personal interpretation (to comment about the origin of the word Hindu). "The actual term 'Hindu' first occurs as a Persian geographical term for the people who lived beyond the river Indus (Sanskrit: Sindhu), more specifically in the 6th century BCE inscription of Darius I (550-486 BCE). JDS EAGER TO GET DISSIDENT LEADERS FROM OTHER PARTIES

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

Janata Dal-Secular is eager to welcome to its fold dissidents and those who miss tickets in their parties, especially Congress. The thinking is that the move will allow the regional party to win more seats and turn it again into a kingmaker if the 2023 Assembly polls throw up a fractured mandate.

JDS state president CM Ibrahim on Monday extended an open invitation to sulking former minister and BJP leader Ramesh Jarkiholi. The party is also eyeing leaders like former Gangavathi MLA Iqbal Ansari and former minister TB Jayachandra. Ansari, who set a record of sorts by enrolling over 97,000 members to Congress, seems to be disillusioned with the Grand Old Party and is in touch with Ibrahim, sources said.

Jayachandra, who lost back-to-back polls including the by-poll in Sira, is said to be in contact with JDS supremo HD Deve Gowda. He is facing a revolt from within Congress at his constituency as Sasalu Sathish, a backward Kadu Golla community youth leader, has started campaigning already in the constituency. "Jayachandra, who is on good terms with AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge, may get the party ticket. But if he fails to, he could jump to JDS. Even Sasalu could join JDS if he does not get the Congress ticket. For many leaders, JDS would be the option if they are ignored by Congress as they will get minority votes," a leader said.

> TB Jayachandra, who is on good terms with newly elected AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge, may get the party ticket. But if he fails to, he could jump to JDS
> A JDS leader

But Jayachandra, while talking to TNIE, categorically denied that he would join JDS. "When I missed the party ticket in 1989, I did not quit the party. Instead, I contested as an independent and won," he added.

Meanwhile, JDS senior leader HD Kumaraswamy began a three-day brainstorming session for JDS legislators and party ticket from Monday hopefuls to boost their morale.

'Won't return to Cong'

SHIVAMOGGA: Labour Minister Shivaram Hebbar has said that he will not return to the Congress. His statement comes close on the heels of KPCC chief DK Shivakumar expressing confidence that those MLAs who left the Congress to join hands with the BJP will return to the party fold. He also welcomed the Supreme Court upholding the 10% quota for EWS. "The poor belonging to any caste have the right to live and the SC verdict has confirmed it," he said.

Muck on face of local bodies as people fill potholes

Women of Gopanakoppa in Hubballi perform tulasi puja on a road under repair as a mark of protest | D HEMANTH

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR
@ Ballari/Hubballi

THE condition of roads has worsened across the state and Ballari is no different. Frustrated with bad roads, and not waiting for the local municipal body to take up the repair work, citizens have jumped in to fill potholes in Ballari city, spending money from their own pocket.

Several minor accidents have occurred because of potholes, but the local administration has not taken any action despite complaints, said Venkatesh Reddy, a resident.

"By the time the corporation starts working, we may lose some people to accidents. We did not wait for the administration to wake up. A few like-minded residents collected money and we started filling up large potholes near Royal Circle, SP Office Road and Moti Circle," he added.

'Most roads don't last more than six months'

Prabhakar Nagaldinni, another resident, said most of the roads in the city do not last more than six months.

"The administration should take action against contractors. Ours was not a mock protest. We bought cement and crushed stones, mixed them and then filled the potholes. It is a temporary solution, but we hope the administration will do its part," he said.

People in Hubballi and Dharwad too took up a similar exercise. A group of women performed the tulasi pooja on the road and also filled up potholes in protest. "We have been requesting local leaders for many months to repair the roads, but no one is responding. The roads are in a bad shape and hundreds of motorists pass through them without complaining. We decided to organise a ritual and also repair roads as a mark of protest," said a resident.

Kerala guv's media censorship unites rivals LDF and UDF

Open insult to media invites sharp responses from CPM and Congress

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi/T'Puram

AT a time when the LDF is planning to join hands with the Opposition UDF in its bidto strip Governor Arif Mohammed Khan of chancellorship, Khan himself set the stage for the rivals to come together when he barred two news channels from attending his news conference in Kochi on Monday.

During a media interaction at Ernakulam Guest House, a livid Khan asked representatives of MediaOne TV, operated by Madhyamam Broadcasting, and CPM-backed Kairali TV to leave the news conference. The open insult to the media invited sharp responses from the CPM and Congress.

DYFI members take out a rally to Raj Bhavan in protest against Governor Arif Mohammed

CPM state secretary M V Govindan and Leader of Opposition V D Satheesan termed the governor's move fascist. "Get out from here," Khan told reporters of the two channels after he learnt that they were among the mediapersons who had arrived at the guest house following an invite from the Raj Bhavan.

"I do not want to speak to you," he said, accusing MediaOne of targeting him on his stand on the Shah Bano case. He also claimed Kairali had aired wrong news against him and did not rectify the error despite requests from the Raj Bhavan.

CPM state secretary M V Govindan said it was a fascist move by the governor who occupies a constitutional position. "Discrimination against any media is undemocratic. It's unfortunate that other media houses attended the news conference," he said.

Leader of Opposition V D Satheesan termed the governor's stand undemocratic.

Revoke doc's suspension, says med officers' assn

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Government Medical Officers' Association has come out in support of Dr Usha A R, the on-duty doctor who was suspended following the death of a pregnant woman and her twins after being allegedly denied treatment at the Tumakuru district general hospital recently.

A delegation from the association called upon Health and Family Welfare Minister Dr K Sudhakar on Monday and appealed to him to revoke the suspension, stating that Dr Usha was not responsible for the deaths.

They claimed that the doctor was in the Operation Theatre (OT) when the victim, Kasturi(30), along with her neighbour Sarojamma, came to the hospital. "After a house surgeon on duty informed Usha, she attended to the victim and tried to convince her to undergo some tests. But the victim herself took the decision to return home," claimed Dr Chethan M, association president.

The association decided to plead the doctor's case following a letter sent by her to them. "I had performed eight surgeries between 5 pm and 9.30 pm on November 2. Meanwhile, I came across the woman (the victim) along with an attendant on the corridors and got to know from a postgraduate doctor and the nurse on duty that she was refusing to produce documents as well as undergo tests. On November 4, the minister and the commissioner concerned took the unilateral decision to suspend me on charges of dereliction of duty," she stated in her letter.

DHO Dr Manjunath D N told TNIE, "The departmental inquiry is in progress and the facts will be established once the authority concerned submits its report to the government," he said.

Meanwhile, civil society members continued their protest demanding the dismissal of the duty doctor and three staff nurses.

ISRO to focus on research, work with institutes to benefit society

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru:

INDIAN Space Research Organisation (ISRO) chairman S Somanath said on Monday that ISRO's aim is to focus on research, following privatisation of the space sector.

Speaking at the platinum jubilee celebrations at Raman Research Institute (RRI), he said the move towards privatisation of the sector will mean that ISRO will focus more on research in the years to come. "ISRO will focus more and more on research and development for advanced technologies in the space domain. The forthcoming missions of ISRO, like Chandrayaan 2, Aditya L1 along with missions to Venus, or for the study of exoplanets that are being conceived, I believe there could be greater engagements of scientists at RRI," he said.

Most operational activities of ISRO have gradually been shifted to NewSpace India Limited (NSIL), the marketing arm of ISRO which focuses on improving private sector participation in the Indian space field.

"This is going to be a big change and requires support. Institutions like RRI can connect with ISRO in creating more front-end research through laboratories and establishments that we have created through ISRO," he said.

Meanwhile, Dr Srivari Chandrashekhar, secretary, Department of Science & Technology (DST), who attended the celebrations virtually, urged faculty at RRI and other research institutes to collaborate for the greater benefit of society. "Along with excellent fundamental research activities, I would like to see RRI conduct research that has direct benefit to society, like in areas of health and related industries. DST has played a pivotal role in the promotion of science and technology in the country," he said.

Heart of this border village beats for Kannada

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI @ Bidar

THOUGH Chondi Mukhed village of newly formed Kamalnagar taluk, surrounded by Maharashtra from all sides, is the only exclave of Karnataka state, its villagers are not behind in loving Kannada and Karnataka like people in other parts of the state.

The population of Chondi Mukhed as per 2011 Census was 1,617 and according to other surveys conducted recently, it has increased to 3,200. The majority of the people in the village identify themselves with Karnataka and are against any merger with the neighbouring state.

Satyakalabai Rakshal from the village, who is also the president of Chikli Grama Panchayat told TNIE that not once have the villagers expressed their desire to go with Maharashtra even though 90 per cent of the population speaks Marathi. "Though our mother tongue is Marathi, we love Kannada equally. We are emotionally attached to Karnataka", she says.

Satyakalabai's son Pradeep Rakshal, a BJP leader, says successive governments have neglected Chondi Mukhed. Late Manik Rao Patil Kushnoor and late Gurupadappa Nagamarapally who represented Aurad constituency to which Chondi Mukhed belonged, have not done much for the village, he said. IT was a longstanding demand to set up both Kannada and Marathi medium schools in the village. But the government opened only a Marathi medium school up to class 8. Of the sanctioned strength of seven teachers, only a few are permanent. The government has appointed a guest teacher for Kannada language, said former Zilla Panchayat member Ramdas. "The guest teacher who teaches Kannada in the village has been entrusted with the same task in another village. As a result, the lecturer visits Chondi Mukhed only once a week", says Ramdas.

Pradeep said that most of the students have to go to Mukrambad in Udgir of Maharashtra (about 25-30 km from Chondi Mukhed) to continue their education in Marathi medium.

Bidar Deputy Commissioner Govind Reddy, he said that he has conducted 'Jilladhikarigala Nade Halli Kade' (Village Stay Programme) in the village in June and the problems of the village are being sorted out one by one.

DHAMNAGAR DEFEAT LEAVES UNDERLYING MESSAGE FOR BJD

Odisha's Dhamnagar has given its mandate, and it is clearly in favour of the Bharatiya Janata Party. Its approach cohesive, the national party put up a spirited campaign led by Union Minister Dharmendra Pradhan. It secured a decisive win in the by-election, the result of which was declared on Sunday. The stakes were high, given the seat belonged to the BJP and the party units responded in unison. Its nominee Suryabanshi Suraj, who will be the youngest legislator in the state assembly, polled 80,351 votes, handing Abanti Das, his rival from Biju Janata Dal, a defeat by 9,881 votes. Much as the regional party tries to make light of the loss by attributing it to the 'sympathy factor' which Suryabanshi had the advantage of, it knows history could come back to bite.

Of the five by-elections the BJD has won handsomely since 2019, three went to kin of its own sitting MLAs. Should sympathy votes be the only factor, the BJP should not have yielded its holding seat in the Balasore by-election to the ruling party. While the saffron outfit has reasons to feel upbeat following its Dhamnagar victory, the defeat will rankle the regional party.

Since it rose to power in 2000, the Naveen Patnaik-led BJD has suffered only two by-election losses—in Talasara and Laxmipur assembly segments. It has not lost a single bypoll after 2009, even after severing ties with BJP. That's why Dhamnagar should be a worry for the party. The bypoll has thrown up two fault lines that seem to have developed lately. The BJD has faced an actual rebel candidate in an election for the first time. Earlier, disgruntlement and rebellion had been managed and neutralised well before the polls. Second, as much as the state's people are steadfast in their adoration of Naveen Patnaik, the party leaders are no longer viewed on such a pedestal.

There is growing disillusionment with the functioning of the party and functionaries from the state level to the grassroots. The Dhamnagar voters were quite vocal in their dissatisfaction with leading BJD poll managers, including senior party office bearers and ministers, who they alleged to be working against the Bhadrak district's interests. And the result reflected this. The party may dismiss the bypoll as a sympathy factor outcome but should not overlook the underlying message. It has a big task in hand ahead of 2024.

EQUAL PAY IS A WELCOME FIRST STEP FOR CHANGE

When the Indian cricket board (BCCI) announced equal pay for its contracted women cricketers, the world lauded it as a harbinger of change. It's a novel initiative that might have repercussions elsewhere, especially in corporate houses where the disparity in male and female workers' pay is still stark. Their match fee has now been increased from ₹2.5 lakh to ₹15 lakh in Tests. For ODIs, women will get ₹6 lakh per match as against ₹1 lakh, and in T20Is they will now get ₹3 lakh—up from ₹1 lakh. The figure definitely looks attractive. Since New Zealand Cricket is the only test-playing nation to bring parity in its pay structure, we must doff our hat to the BCCI's efforts.

Hopefully, this is just the beginning. A lot needs to be done. Women cricketers still play less international cricket than their male counterparts. They have played just two Test matches since December 2014—compared to 80 by men—and will play only two more until 2025. According to the next International Cricket Council (ICC's) Future's Tour programme 2023–25, Indian women are expected to play around 65 international matches, including two Test matches, less than half the number of matches their male counterparts will play. For the sport to grow, the BCCI needs to concentrate on the grassroots. Domestic women players get less than half the match fee compared to men. A senior woman player's fee was increased from ₹12,500 to ₹20,000 per day in September last year. In comparison, a senior male cricketer gets ₹40,000 to ₹60,000 per day. Australia, considered a powerhouse in women's cricket, has enhanced its domestic pay considerably to promote its cricket.

The disparity between men and women is huge in terms of central contracts. While top women cricketers get ₹50 lakh a year, A+ contracted male players like Virat Kolhi and Rohit Sharma get ₹7 crore. Yes, men generate more revenue, but the core objective of the BCCI's constitution is to lay down policies, roadmaps and measures necessary for the promotion and development of cricket in the country.

Women's cricket of late has been improving, both in terms of qyality and viewership. And the only way women cricketers will continue to get more recognition is when they get to play more games, apart from increasing the number of opportunities available at all levels.

QUICK TAKE

A NEW UNDERGRAD DEGREE FORMAT

Students admitted to Delhi University this month comprise the first batch to study the four-year undergraduate degree. The new framework allows combinations of study disciplines and gives students the option to leave after the first, second, third or fourth year. However, the university has only released the first-semester syllabus to date. That will disappoint students who'd want to see the entire course structure to figure out their choices. For some, an extra year's expenses would be worrisome. One also cannot rule out the chances of families pressurising especially girls to exit the courses early. Despite the flaws, it's a beginning.

COMING TO GRIPS WITH PERMACRISIS IN OUR LIVES

HARISH BIJOOR

On Tuesday last, Collins Dictionary named Permacrisis as Britain's word of the year in acceptance of a dismal 2022. Permacrisis in many ways is seen to be the result of a combination of sudden, extenuating and unforeseen factors. Brexit and its fallout, the Covid health crisis, the Ukraine war, internal political upheaval and the cost-of-living crisis are all quoted to be prime factors resulting in this word and its birth. For the sake of common clarity, this new dictionary-entrant term is defined as an "extended period of instability and insecurity". And it's here it seems.

Permacrisis is here then. Not only for Britain, but for every society and economy in the world for sure. The world is flat, as is its economic interdependence and relationship. This term, which will now be bandied about extensively in every economic debate of the future, in many ways, is the ultimate definition of where we stand today as a society, an economy, a political entity and even a religious society on the morph. If I am to tweak the word a bit in my typical way, I might as well dub it as Permaflux. The world is in a flux. The way it is meant to be.

And that's the point really. The world is never meant to be static for sure. Everything is meant to be in a flux. In many ways, all creation is a result of the flux that precedes it. And we are all a result of that flux. Resisting this flux or wanting it to be any other way, is really fighting the way of nature.

Let's look around. The week gone by has been a tumultuous one in itself. Take the realm of jobs. 50% of Twitter employees lost their jobs across the world. In India, the loss of Twitter jobs is said to be as big as 85%, which means the only team left unscathed is Twitter's basic tech-backbone team. Byju's let go of thousands. In the US market, which is just about on the precipice of a recession, Lyft laid off 13%, Opendoor 18%, Stripe 14% and for Morgan Stanley, a number is yet to be estimated. Jobs are being shed like leaves in autumn. And this is just winter. Wait for more to come. This sure is a key factor of the Permacrisis we will live in for now.

The shedding of jobs by a corporate is always held in disdain. Criticism is always the stick of choice used to beat a corporate brand. The fact remains that a job loss is a loss of income. At times, this is an income that supports families and an entire ecosystem of consumption that creates the positive turn of the wheels of an economy. And that's the real human and economic angle that is a tragedy for sure. A job loss, apart from being an economic hit, is a big hit on the morale and psyche of the individual at the receiving end. But then, when you beat Elon Musk (the new owner of Twitter) with this stick of reason, he is quick to revert and say that Twitter was losing $4 million every day, and this is the best (and indeed the worst) he could do. In the case of Twitter, employees were fired in a day and compensated for the notice period. But jobs were lost.

The Permacrisis in our lives needs to be recognised. And accepted. Not resisted. That causes more angst. When it comes to jobs, we need to look at jobs to be the temporary things they are. When life itself is temporary, how can a job be permanent?

The job crisis at hand and what's ahead must be recognised by all. Jobs are not permanent at all. There are indeed three viewpoints to weigh here—employee, organisational, and societal. The last one is the least important of the three. It is about saying things that are politically correct and standing up for the aggrieved employee in spirit. The more important views are those of the employee and the organisation with a profit mandate. In the current Permacrisis situation, what is good for the goose is not good for the gander.

When it comes to looking for a job, there are different approaches people take. The old adage was that if you wanted job security, you must take up a government job. Not anymore. Even government jobs come in various avatars. There are jobs that come under the Central and State Civil Services modules of relative tenure comfort, just as there are government jobs that are contractual with tenures of three years, renewable at will or not. If you wanted a secure job in the private sector, job-seekers always saw the Tatas in India as beacons of corporate comfort. I still do believe they hold that candle of comfort quite well.

A strong reaction statement to the job Permacrisis is what we witness in the issue of moonlighting in tech jobs. There are folks who work for three companies with three salaries to boot. To an extent, this is the ultimate revenge of the employee, who hitherto has been at the receiving end of it all. If you wish to avoid this negative terrain, it is time to think of equipping yourself with two competencies if not three. A coder in the day is a disc jockey at night. A coder at night is a chef during the day.

The Permacrisis ahead is really not about loss of jobs, loss of livelihoods and loss of morale. It is about much more. Expect a Permacrisis in the realm of money management. There is a limited amount of money chasing goods and services. These are goods and services one has gotten used to in more prosperous times. It is difficult to stop partaking in them in tough times. And, therefore, one borrows and gets deeper into the Permacrisis of one's own making. The looming inflation ahead in our lives is one such.

The Permacrisis in our lives is all about the businesses that surround us. Small businesses are suffering much more than the bigger ones. The small startups are burning out much faster than the bigger, funded ones. Small entrepreneurships are struggling more. The Permacrisis is equally about social and societal angst on every issue. Fear is the key here. It is pure fear of the uncertain future that drives debate to dizzying depths of negativity. Just watch some of our television news debates and you will know what I am writing about. Just hang around for a while on social media to see debates that revolve around social issues, politics, religion and gender, and you will see the Permacrisis foundation in all of them. There is a little bit of Permacrisis in the very air we breathe today. And the beauty of it is the fact that it is meant to be that way. Life itself is a Permacrisis. Isn't it?

And finally, in equally lighter and serious veins, when it comes to jobs (as this is one that touches us all intimately), with the environment of uncertainty being what it is, is it time to look for a job insurance company that will underwrite the tenure of jobs for us with premiums to boot? If we can have a Life Insurance Corporation of India, why not a 'Job Insurance Corporation of India' as well? Touché!

RUPEE IN THE RED, CASE OF THE FOREX BLUES

TULSI JAYAKUMAR

Professor, Economics and Executive Director, Centre for Family Business & Entrepreneurship at Bhavan's SPJIMR

The rupee has been in the red for some time now, having depreciated by more than 10.5% since January 2022. This has led to a severe case of forex blues, with doomsday predictions on India's macroeconomic stability and concerns about India's return to the 1991 days.

A country holds foreign exchange reserves for several reasons. These include ensuring self-insurance and holding sufficient liquidity buffers against external shocks and crises.

Foreign exchange reserves also help preserve the currency's value when market conditions—especially those unrelated to the country's fundamentals—lead to sudden, massive capital outflows and cause the rupee to depreciate. During the infamous 'taper tantrum' episode, India witnessed a sudden and deep depreciation of the rupee in 2013. The accumulation of foreign exchange reserves by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) not only preserves the currency's value but also boosts confidence in the central bank's ability and commitment to the timely discharge of external obligations. The country's ability to cover its import requirements is prime among such obligations.

We looked at India's historical experience with its foreign exchange reserves to address concerns about reserve availability as a cover for India's imports. The "reserve cover of imports"—a crucial external liquidity indicator—refers to the number of months a country's reserves can finance its imports if all external inflows cease. This also reveals the country's vulnerability to our external sector. The conventional rule, based on the recommendation of the High Level Committee on Balance of Payments (Chairman: Dr C Rangarajan) in 1993, is for the country to maintain a reserve cover to allow at least three months' worth of imports.

We used RBI data for our analysis of India's crisis periods.

In the worst-case scenario, in 1990, India had forex reserves worth only $3,962 million, sufficient to cover only about two months' worth of our imports ($21,219.2 million) at the time.

The rupee, pegged to a basket of currencies from 1975 to the early 1990s, was moved away from such pegged exchange rates, and India adopted a managed float exchange rate system. At the same time, to counter the massive drawdown in the foreign exchange reserves, to instill confidence in the investors and to improve domestic competitiveness, India initiated a two-step downward exchange rate adjustment by 9% and 11% between July 1 and 3, 1991 as part of its economic reforms. As a result, the rupee fell from ₹17.5 in 1990 to ₹26 to a dollar in 1992.

There are myths surrounding the 'preciousness' of foreign exchange reserves and the equation of the rupee-dollar exchange rate to national pride. It is important to bust such myths

A second critical moment in India's external sector vulnerability came during the Global Financial Crisis in 2008–09, when India's forex reserves fell by 18%—from $311,885 million in April 2008 to $255,160 million in April 2009. The rupee also fell by 11%—from ₹43.5 in 2008 to ₹48.4 in 2009. Such a devaluation of the rupee allowed the forex reserve depletion to be within limits, with the reserve cover for imports being 10.2 months.

During the taper tantrum of 2013, a third critical moment witnessed forex reserves dipping by a mere 4.3% during the crucial months of May to August 2013, from $287,897 million to $275,492 million.

In fact, over the calendar year 2013, there was a next to negligible change in forex reserves, with the forex reserves amounting to $295,508 million in January 2013 and $293,877 million in December 2013. The RBI had allowed the rupee to fall, thereby bringing about equilibrium in the Balance of Payments. The rupee fell by 13.8%—from ₹54.85 on January 4, 2013, to ₹62.41 in January 2014.

In the current scenario, amidst the Russia-Ukraine crisis and the Fed tightening episode, the rupee has fallen by about 10.5% till date. India's forex reserves, on the other hand, too have fallen by about 10% from $606,475 million on April 1, 2022, to $545,652 million on September 16, 2022.

We used the import data for April-June 2022 (imports of $191,524 million) to project the imports for all four quarters of 2022–23 (at $766,096 million). India's forex reserves in September 2022 would still cover about 9.2 months of such projected imports, much higher than the ideal reserve cover for imports of 3 months.

There are myths surrounding the 'preciousness' of foreign exchange reserves and the equation of the rupee-dollar exchange rate to national pride. It is important to bust such myths. India's foreign exchange reserves comprise mainly foreign currency assets—major currencies such as the US dollar, Euro, Pound sterling, Japanese yen, etc., valued in terms of US dollars.

Forex reserves also include gold, Special Drawing Rights, and the reserve tranche position in the International Monetary Fund. Such Foreign Currency Assets (FCA), accounting for 88% of overall forex reserves while providing a cushion for import cover, involve costs since they earn no interest for the RBI. One has to assess the costs of holding such assets against the benefits of maintaining confidence.

Our analysis highlights the challenges of exchange rate management for the RBI. It can either defend the rupee by selling dollars in the market and reducing its forex reserves or maintain its forex reserves and allow the rupee to go through a free fall. A third option, of course, is that it manages both judiciously as it has been doing during this round of the crisis.

However, in the realm of forex management, by no means can one have their cake and eat it too.

Lord Shiva and Nakkirar

Renuka Narayanan's column, Taught not to take even God's word for it (Nov 7), reminds me of the famous Tamil movie Thiruvilaiyadal (1965) which presents the story of Nakkirar and the ensuing events as narrated in the column. This is an important story that teaches people not to accept even a minor mistake and to always stand for the truth, even if God intervenes. A good story, indeed!
Prasanna P, Tiruchy

Stand by your truth

I am very much taken by Renuka Narayanan's piece that is filled with variety and good narration. I appreciate that this column is spreading the wisdom of always standing by the truth through the story of Nakkirar.
A Sugumar Jose, Dindigul

Sustainable infrastructure

The editorial, Infrastructure spend welcome, but can't lose sight of quality (Nov 7), reflects the drawback of the developments booming in India. If so much money is wasted on poor infrastructure development, it will result in a huge loss. Sustainability is key when it comes to starting new projects. Thanks to TNIE for highlighting such a valid issue for the long-term gain of the country.
Dr P Sri Ram, Visakhapatnam

SC on reservation

The landmark SC judgement upheld the provision of 10% reservation in government jobs and educational institutions for the economically weaker sections in society. In doing so, it aims to uplift the poorest in our society. Caste has always been a criterion for identifying the degree of backwardness. But is this the only ground? Isn't poverty also important? Now, the SC has corrected this old anomaly.

Harsh punishment for rapist

Apropos of Man arrested for raping minor who fled shelter home in Kerala (Nov 7). I condemn the man for committing this crime. He needs to get a harsh penalty so that both he and those who indulge in such heinous acts learn a valuable lesson.
S Pradeep Kumar, Vijayawada

Odisha on a roll

Apropos of Odisha's 'kahani' is of transformation and development: Naveen (Nov 7). People are moved by the Odisha government's actions for the growth of the state. Perhaps if it focuses more on providing chances to those who lack them, the state's development trajectory will change. The state's rich history must be shared with the entire world so that it can be read.

Gola Gokarnath assembly byelection of UP is in lot of discussion for defeat of SP more than victory of BJP. When BSP mostly does not contest byelections.

Sushil Kumar Modi @SushilModi
Court gave its consent to the 10% reservation by the Modi govt to the economically backward. RJD was the only party that opposed it in Parliament.

Mallikarjun Kharge @kharge
Demonetization was promised to free the country of black money. But it destroyed businesses & ruined jobs.

Modi factor will work for BJP: Himachal CM

Jai Ram Thakur says AAP not a challenger in poll, but admits that rebels are a concern for saffron party

ON all counts, it looks like a straight contest between the BJP and Congress. For Himachal Pradesh's BJP Chief Minister Jai Ram Thakur, AAP is nowhere in the picture, and its candidates will lose their security deposit. Thakur appears certain to return to power with 45-plus seats in the 68-member House, courtesy the 'double engine government.' In an interview to Harpreet Bajwa in Mandi, the district from where Thakur comes, the CM says the Modi factor will again work, though rebels remain a concern at some places. Excerpts:

Verbatim

What's BJP's plan for these elections?
The agenda is development. The double engine government — in state and the Centre — has worked, facilitating development in every part of the state. In these five years, PM Modi has played a big role by visiting the state many times and kicking off big-ticket development projects. The new initiatives that we took were accepted and implemented. For instance, Himcare and Ayushman Bharat healthcare schemes were introduced for the first time.

What have been your achievements?
There are many. We have moved ahead on the basic mantra of sabka saath, sabka vikas, sabka vishwas and sabka prayas (development for all with trust and common endeavour). We have brought the Sahara Yojana for the needy people and free gas connections for the poor under Ujjwala and Grihini Suvidha Yojana. We also introduced Shagun Yojna and offered financial assistance of ₹31,000 for the marriage of daughters of BPL families. The Swavalamban scheme was rolled out to make the youth self-reliant. An amount of ₹1,033 crore has already been spent on these schemes for more than 10 lakh beneficiaries.

Is there anything you wanted to do but could not?
The Covid pandemic disrupted many projects. We had cleared a few projects and set targets for them. We had to pause. For instance, travel and tourism through Mandi needs scaling up. We are moving towards it in three steps: by strengthening the road network, building an airport in Mandi and land acquisition. In just 18 months, four-lane road projects around Mandi will be completed. For the airport we have reached the level of land acquisition. Early next year we can start work on it.

The people of Himachal have never accepted the third alternative. We have a straight contest between the BJP and Congress. AAP is nowhere in the picture; its candidates will lose their security deposit.

Jai Ram Thakur, Himachal CM

How many seats do you expect in the elections?
We will comfortably make the government. We won 44 seats last time. With two Independents and as many Congress MLAs joining us, our tally rose 48. This time we will get 45-plus seats.

How many seats will rebel BJP candidates influence the results?
Rebels are a factor. However, as the campaign reaches its peak, the influence of rebel activity would die down. People know the importance of the double engine government.

Opposition Congress has come out with a 'chargesheet' against your government....
I have discarded that chargesheet into the dustbin. Not a single allegation is corroborated by facts and none of the charges has any substance. These are meant to malign the BJP, they have no meaning.

Is anti-incumbency a factor?
I agree some people are annoyed, yet there are people who are happy with the five-year tenure of our government. I don't think there is an anti-incumbency factor. The Opposition has picked up emotional issues to benefit from them.

Will AAP dent BJP prospects?
The people of Himachal have never accepted the third alternative. We have a straight contest between the BJP and Congress. AAP is nowhere in the picture; its candidates will lose their security deposit.

Congress and AAP have promised Old Pension Scheme. Your opinion?
I want to ask them who finished the OPS. Both Congress and AAP are misleading the people. The Virbhadra Singh government closed this scheme to replace it with a new one. In 2003, he finished the OPS and again in 2012, Virbhadra became the CM. He should have implemented OPS. After 20 years, this issue is being raised. We have done our best for the employees and started the family pension.

Will Modi magic work this time too?
Modi is the biggest factor in the country. People want him to lead us for as long as possible. He is the most popular prime minister not only in India but globally.
The country has touched new heights of development under his leadership.

BATTLE FOR HILL STATE

BJP's Uniform Civil Code promise just a poll plank, says Baghel

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

WITH barely a week go for the Assembly polls in Himachal Pradesh, Chhattisgarh Chief Minister and Congress election-in-charge Bhupesh Baghel said that the Bharatiya Janata Party's promise of implementing the Uniform Civil Code (UCC) in the state, is an election gimmick to hoodwink the public. In an interview with this newspaper, Baghel said that the BJP government in Uttarakhand is yet to implement the UCC though it promised to bring the law during the assembly election campaigns.

Has the Uttarakhand government implemented Uniform Civil Code? It's just to mislead people. The law has to be passed by Parliament. Let them discuss it in the Lok Sabha. They are only eyeing the elections

Bhupesh Baghel, Cong election incharge

"Has the Uttarakhand government implemented Uniform Civil Code? It's just to mislead people. The law has to be passed by Parliament. Let them discuss it in the Lok Sabha. They are only eyeing the elections," said Baghel.

The BJP, in its manifesto which was released on Sunday, promised implementation of the UCC and 33 per cent reservation for women in government jobs in Himachal Pradesh if the party is re-elected to power.

Baghel denied allegations that the Congress is facing a leadership vacuum after the passing away of Virbhadra Singh, the six-time chief minister and former Himachal Congress chief. "Though Virbhadra Singh passed away, we have a second line of leadership," he said. While the BJP and its leaders target the Congress for not announcing its Chief Ministerial candidate and for internal friction, Baghel said that the party is contesting under a collective leadership and it will decide the CM candidate if it emerges as the winner. "We have decided from the beginning that we will fight with collective leadership and decide on CM after the results if we win," he said.

Knives are out in the BJP, which prides itself as a cadre-based party, said Baghel. The party is grappling with a rebel problem, he said. "The BJP is not able to contain the rebellion in the party. There are many rebels in the fray. Though PM Modi asked the rebels not to contest, they are not listening. It's the rebels who are going to cut BJP's votes," he said.

Though both the BJP and Congress are battling with rebellion problems, Baghel maintained that it will not impact the prospects of the party in the polls. Last week, two prominent leaders of Congress, including former AICC secretary Rakesh Kalia and former MLA Vijai Singh Mankotia joined the BJP. Baghel blamed the BJP for putting pressure on Congress leaders to jump the ship.

Soren gets SC relief from ED probe in mining case

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

IN a relief to Jharkhand CM Hemant Soren, the Supreme Court on Monday set aside Jharkhand HC's order of accepting pleas seeking ED probe against him for alleged money laundering through several shell companies.

While allowing the appeals preferred by the State Government and CM, a bench of CJI UU Lalit, Justices SR Bhat and Sudhanshu Dhulia said for a High Court to take cognizance of the matter on these generalised submissions which do not even make prima facie satisfaction of the Court, is nothing but an abuse of the process of the Court.

'Not proper for HC'

Authoring the verdict, Justice Sudhanshu Dhulia said that it was not proper for the High Court to entertain a PIL which is based on mere allegations and half baked truth

Authoring the verdict, Justice Sudhanshu Dhulia said that it was not proper for the High Court to entertain a PIL which is based on mere allegations and half baked truth that too at the hands of a person who has not been able to fully satisfy his credentials and has come to the Court with unclean hands. "The petitioner in the PILs did not go with clean hands before the High Court. In our view, such a petition was liable to be dismissed at the very threshold itself. If the petitioner has a genuine reason to pursue the matter, he has his remedies available under the Companies Act or under other provisions of the law where he can apprise the relevant authorities of the misdeeds of the Directors or Promoters of the Companies. But on generalized averments which are nothing but mere allegations at this stage, the Court cannot become a forum to investigate the alleged acts of misdeeds against high constitutional authorities," the bench also said.

Court's order came in the pleas which were preferred by the State of Jharkhand and CM assailing HC's June 3rd order passed by the bench of Justices R Ranjan and Sujit Narayan Prasad of admitting the pleas seeking probe against the CM. "This court after having answered the issue, as framed by the court and on the basis of discussions made hereinabove, is summing up its view and is on the considered opinion that the writ petitions cannot be thrown away on the ground of maintainability," the HC bench had held. While reserving the verdict on August 17, 2022, SC had stayed further proceedings pending before the Jharkhand HC.

Notice to ECI in Azam's plea challenging disqualification

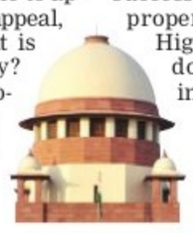
EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday issued notice in a plea preferred by Samajwadi Party leader Azam Khan challenging ECI's November 5 press note of stipulating schedule for bye election to Rampur Assembly Constituency in UP from which Khan was elected to UP legislative assembly.

Khan was disqualified by the UP Legislative Assembly a day after being convicted for hate speech by MP/MLA court.

A bench of Justices DY Chandrachud and Hima Kohli while issuing notice in the plea to the ECI granted time to UP's standing counsel to seek instructions. It accordingly posted the petition for Wednesday.

Slamming the UP government for disqualifying Khan without giving him time to approach the HC for an appeal, the bench said, "What is the breathing hurry? Give him some time. Today the seat stands vacated but you should give them some reasonable opp to move to appellate court."



Fake birth date? SC upholds Azam son's disqualification

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday upheld Allahabad HC's order which annulled Samajwadi Party Leader Azam Khan's son Mohd Abdullah Azam Khan's 2017 election from Suar constituency on grounds that he was underage and not qualified to contest the poll in 2017.

A bench of Justices Ajay Rastogi BV Nagarathna while confirming HC's order said and setting aside the election said, "The High Court, in our considered view, has examined the documentary and the oral evidence available on record in extenso, we find that no manifest error was committed by the High Court in passing the impugned judgment, which may call for our interference."

Justice BV Nagarathna in her separate judgement said, "I find that the acceptance of the nomination of the appellant-successful candidate was improper. The findings of the High Court in this regard do not require any interference."

Abdullah's election was cancelled on the ground that he was less than the required 25 years of age at the time of filing his nomination. Against the father and the son the allegations were that as per the son's educational certificates, Abdullah was born on January 1, 1993 whereas according to his birth certificate his date of birth was September 30, 1991. For allegedly forging his son's birth certificate SP leader, his wife Tazeen Fatima and son Mr. Abdullah Azam Khan had been in jail in a criminal case registered against them over two allegedly fake birth certificates issued to his son through fraudulent means from two different places.

My journey began and ends in SC: Lalit

Outgoing Chief Justice of India Uday Umesh Lalit on Monday recalled his journey of nearly 37 years in the SC. CJI Lalit was speaking as he sat on the ceremonial bench in the SC for the last time with his designated successor Justice D Y Chandrachud. "My journey began from this court and today it ends in the same court," he said.

CONGRESS, BJP HAIL, DMK DENOUNCES SC RULING ON EWS QUOTA

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court's decision upholding the 10 per cent reservation for the Economically Weaker Sections (EWS) was welcomed by most of the political parties, including the Congress and BJP. However, the DMK termed the verdict as a setback to the long struggle for social justice. Hailing the verdict, BJP general secretary (organisation) B L Santosh credited PM Modi for ensuring social justice to the poor in the country. "Supreme Court upholds the legality of EWS reservation for unreserved sections. Another big credit for PM Narendra Modi's vision of Gareeb Kalyan. A big boost in the direction of social justice," he tweeted.

Welcoming the judgment, AICC spokesperson Jairam Ramesh said that the Amendment itself was the result of a process initiated by Manmohan Singh's government in 2005-06 with the appointment of the Sinho Commission that submitted its report in July 2010.

"Congress welcomes today's Supreme Court upholding the 103rd Constitutional Amendment that provides for the 10% reservation quota for Economically Weaker Sections belonging to castes other than Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes, and OBCs," he said stressing that widespread consultations were held and the Bill was ready by 2014.

Flaying the verdict, DMK chief and Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M K Stalin said that the ruling was a setback to a century old struggle for social justice.

Extend insurance cover to senior citizens: Elder groups

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

BANGALORE-based community organisations that works for the welfare of the elderly and India's largest network of private hospitals has written to Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman seeking expansion of the Ayushman Bharat-Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana (AB-PMJAY), the government's flagship health insurance scheme, to cover all women above the age of 65 and all men above 75 years.

In a joint letter, Dr Alexander Thomas, the chairperson of the Association of Healthcare Providers-India (AHPI), which has 11,000 members, including 3,000 big hospitals, and Kris Gopalakrishnan, Chairperson Vayah Vikas, the NGO which works for the welfare of the elderly and co-founder Infosys, said there are an estimated 140 million elderly in India and about 30 per cent of the rural elderly from BPL households are recipients of old-age pension benefits. They said just 30 per cent of households in India are covered by some form of health insurance, and nearly 40 per cent of the elderly are working, especially in urban areas (26 per cent) and mainly in the unorganised sector.

The two organisations have given three suggestions to improve the quality of life of the elderly, who often do not have access to a pension or medical insurance. In the letter, they requested that the coverage of AB-PM-JAY, the world's largest government funded healthcare program, targeting 50 crore beneficiaries, should be extended to all women above the age of 65 and all men above 75 years. Under the insurance scheme, a cover of up to ₹5 lakhs per family per year, for secondary and tertiary care hospitalisation, is provided.

Sharp rise in gold smuggling as marriage season catapults demand

AMIT MUKHERJEE @ New Delhi

AFTER a lull of almost two years when flights across the globe were grounded due to lockdowns, India has witnessed a sharp rise in gold smuggling in the last few months. Sources in the revenue intelligence and the customs said that the spike is also fuelled by the increase in demand of the metal due to wedding seasons which generate 50 per cent of annual gold demand in India, as per the World Gold Council.

While a major portion of the seized consignments in the month of October had their origin in the UAE, September witnessed a number of gold seizures from the North eastern states. One of the largest hauls of the season, however, has been in the month of September when 121 kgs of gold were captured during 11 instances of interception. The metal was being smuggled through the north-east borders of Bangladesh and Myanmar.

DRI sources said that the attempt to smuggle in the metal was made through Champhai –Aizawl in Mizoram to Kolkata, West Bengal by concealing them in vehicles in different compartments. "The seizures indicated a spurt in smuggling of gold through porous NE borders of Bangladesh and Myanmar, which have been used in the past as well. Consequently, extra vigil has been mounted to thwart all attempts by smugglers deploying ingenious ways of getting their work done," an official of the revenue intelligence said. In the month of October, authorities intercepted individual carriers who were making smuggling bids though various airports using innovative means.

Women quota in House echo at Speakers' meeting

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

"IT is high time lawmakers change their mindset about providing reservation to women in state assemblies and Parliament," said former Lok Sabha Speaker Shivraj Patil. He was speaking at a roundtable which was attended by former Lok Sabha Speakers Sumitra Mahajan and Meira Kumar among many others. "How will we achieve equality without ensuring equal representation to women in Parliament and Assemblies?" said Patil.

The roundtable was organised to lay the framework of National Legislators Conference (NLC), slated to be held in Mumbai from 16 th-18th June 2023. NLC, a first of its kind of congregation of around 4000 legislators, is intended to create a cohesive ecosystem among leaders of all ideologies.

Speaking at the roundtable, former Lok Sabha Speaker Meira Kumar said that the upcoming NLC will strengthen the fabric of democracy and promote good governance.

"It is a unique platform to propagate the ideals of democracy at national and international levels and encourage legislators in knowledge sharing and seek innovative solutions and best practices from other states," she said.

The round-table conference was attended by more than 15 Speakers and chairpersons of state Assemblies and legislative councils including Mharashtra, UP, AP, West Bengal among other states. NLC will be jointly organised by the legislative bodies and civil society organisations with active support of the MIT School of Government, Pune.

According to the organisers, NLC will facilitate peer-to-peer learning aimed at designing innovative development solutions, in addition to developing ethical, spirited and competent public leadership for coining pro-people policies.

In poll-bound HP, Agnipath a major issue for youth

Young voters feel that the scheme should be run alongside the normal recruitment process in the Army, Navy and Air Force

HARPREET BAJWA
@Dharamsala/Mandi

THE Agnipath scheme floated by the Central government four months back has emerged as a major issue in the upcoming Assembly polls in Himachal Pradesh, a state that prides itself in sending thousands of youth to the defence forces every year, and in having the maximum number of Param Vir Chakra recipients.

The new recruitment scheme, which offers four-year short-term contractual jobs below the rank of commissioned officers, has not found favour with the youth of the hill state. The young voters instead seek assurance for a secure career.

"There is now uncertainty in the armed forces as under the Agnipath scheme, only 25% recruits will be retained while the others will have to leave after four years. So where is our job security? We have been preparing for the last two years but no recruitments were done due to the Covid-19 pandemic. Now this scheme has been floated, which has dampened our spirits," Jarnail Singh, a student of Central University of Himachal Pradesh, Dharamshala, said.

Some feel that the Agnipath scheme should be run alongside the normal recruitment process in the Army, Navy and Air Force. "If one wants to try out the defence services for a short period of time and then do something else to earn their livelihood, then the Agnipath scheme will work for them. But it is not the favourable option for those want to pursue a career in the armed forces," said Amit Kumar, a young resident of Dharamshala.

The resentment among the people over the scheme also became apparent in June this year, when around 300 protesting youth were booked for blocking the Pathankot-Mandi highway near Gaggal airport during Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit for a road show in Dharamsala.

"The recently-declared result of the recruitment shows that only 325 aspirants got selected out of the 1,800 applicants from Hamirpur, while last year 1,800 candidates got selected out of 2,200 from Palampur. So this scheme is not beneficial for us," Army aspirant Rahul Singh told this newspaper.

However, Kargil war hero and former chairman of HP Ex-Servicemen Corporation, Brig Khushal Thakur (retd), has a different point of view. "Agnipath will benefit the youth and lead to a younger Army," he said.

According to estimates, there are 1.15 lakh serving personnel in the Indian Army from Himachal Pradesh, while 1.30 lakh are retired defence personnel. Of these, 80% are from Kangra, Mandi, Una, Hamirpur, Bilaspur and Sirmaur districts. Every year, around 5,000 youngsters from the state join the Army.

Tribal areas echo with environment concerns

Environmental issues are dominating the electoral landscape in the tribal regions of Himachal Pradesh, especially Lahaul and Spiti, and Kinnaur, with the voters asking the candidates to clarify their stand on new hydroelectric projects and implementation of the Forest Rights Act (FRA). The tribal districts have been reverberating with a 'No Means No' campaign against new hydroelectric projects after a series of landslides took place last year. The residents are also demanding that the candidates clarify their stance on the amendment made in the FRA earlier this year, which revoked the condition of getting a no-objection certificate from panchayats for construction of dams. "We have asked the candidates about their stand on the construction of hydropower projects and how they propose to settle the individual and community claims under FRA," says RS Negi, a retired bureaucrat.

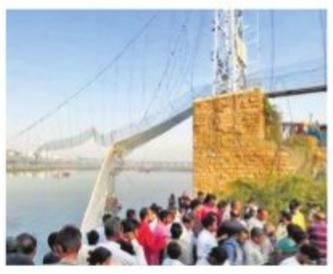
Morbi bridge collapse: HC asks Guj govt to file report within 7 days

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA@
Ahmedabad

THE Gujarat High Court on Monday took suo motu cognisance of the Morbi bridge collapse, and issued notices to the state's home and urban housing departments, Gujarat State Human Rights Commission and the Morbi municipality. The court sought a report from the state government on the incident within seven days and fixed the matter for further hearing on November 14.

"More than 100 persons have died an untimely death. We have taken suo motu cognisance of the Morbi incident. But for the vacation, we would have sat on the same day itself. We want to know what steps have you (state) taken so far," a division bench of Chief Justice Aravind Kumar and Justice Ashutosh Shastri said, addressing Advocate General Kamal Trivedi who was present in the court. "We expect strict action from the state government," the bench added.

The HC ordered that Gujarat's chief secretary, Morbi Municipal Corporation, state urban development department, home department and State Human Rights Commission be impleaded as parties, according to public prosecutor Manisha Love Kumar Shah.



"The high court also directed the State Human Rights Commission to file a separate report on the incident," Shah added.

As many as 136 people died after the British-era Morbi suspension bridge collapsed in Morbi district on October 30.

A local clock and e-bike maker, Oreva Group, was given a contract by the Morbi municipality to repair and operate the bridge for 15 years. A probe conducted after the tragedy revealed several irregularities in the way the contract was awarded and the renovation was carried out. Safety protocols were violated when the bridge was reopened to public last month. The chief officer of Morbi municipality, Sandeepsinh Zala, was suspended following the investigation. A magisterial court in Morbi on Saturday refused to grant further police remand and ordered judicial custody to the Oreva managers and contractors.

Friends turn foes: PK, RCP slam CM over governance

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

IT is not less than an irony that those who once enjoyed full confidence of Bihar CM Nitish Kumar have emerged as his harshest critics. One is bureaucrat-turned politician and former union minister RCP Singh while another is poll strategist Prashant Kishor who is likely to float his own political party soon.

The relationship between Nitish and Singh soured after the former refused to re-nominate the former IAS officer for the third term. His growing proximity with BJP also raised alarm in the JD (U) camp. Now, Singh is touring across the state, targeting Nitish and criticising his performance as CM. Although he has not joined any party so far, it is widely speculated that he can join the BJP.

Similarly, poll strategist Kishor has launched his 'Jan Suraj Padyatra' with an objective to identify 'right' people who should be elected to Lok Sabha and state assembly. He, however, is targeting Nitish for poor implementation of various schemes without mincing his words. Nitish had inducted Kishor into JD (U) in 2018. Later, his relationship with Nitish strained over JD (U) supporting CAA in the Parliament.

Beaten in bypolls, SP gears up to save Mulayam, Azam bastions

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

AFTER facing defeat with a bigger margin than 2022 assembly polls in Gola Gokarannath in Lakhimpur Kheri district of UP at the hands of ruling BJP, the Samajwadi Party is now gearing up to save two crucial seats — Mainpuri Lok Sabha constituency held by late party patriarch Mulayam Singh Yadav and Rampur (Sadar) assembly segment represented by party veteran Azam Khan. Both the seats will go to poll on December 5.

SP chief Akhilesh Yadav called a meeting of senior party leaders to chalk out a strategy for the poll campaigns for the upcoming bypoll. According to sources, prior to Monday's meeting, Akhilesh held a series of meetings on Sunday and Saturday with local leaders of Mainpuri to arrive at a consensus over the candidate for the Lok Sabha seat.

The discussion, according to sources, revolved around "concern" that a family member should be fielded who could take the legacy of 'Netaji' forward. "The names of SP chief's wife and former MP Dimple Yadav, Akhilesh's cousin Dharmendra Yadav and his nephew Tej Pratap Yadav cropped up during the discussion as front-runners who could be entrusted with the responsibility of Mainpuri," said a senior SP leader. In Rampur, the decision on candidate will be taken after taking Azam Khan into confidence and giving preference to his choice of candidate in his stronghold, added sources. The SP is treading cautiously after consecutive defeats in last three by-polls during which SP chief kept himself away from campaigning while resting his confidence on party workers and local leaders. He, however, drew brickbats for his strategy after losing both Rampur and Azamgarh LS seats to the BJP in June.

"The party, at present, seems cagey about the previous bypoll defeats in its bastions — Rampur and Azamgarh Lok Sabha — at the hands of ruling BJP, in June this year," says Prof AK Mishra, a prominent political scientist.

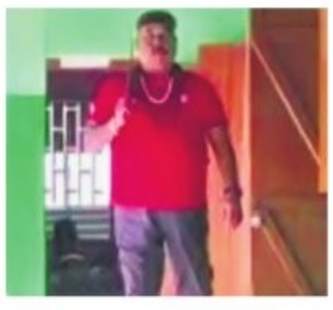
Video goes viral: Assam teacher wields machete in school, sent on leave

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR@ Guwahati

THE headmaster of a government primary school in Assam was sent on leave for a month by the authorities after a video, showing him moving around his school premises carrying a machete, had gone viral on social media.

A senior official in the district administration said the teacher, Dhritimedha Das, might be suspended. The authorities sought a report from the district education department. Last Saturday, Das went to his Radhamadhav Buniyadi School in southern Assam's Cachar district, allegedly carrying a machete. In the short duration video, he appeared walking menacingly holding the weapon as classes were on.

Later, someone tipped off the police and the personnel arrived in no time. They seized the machete but did not take any action against the teacher as no FIR was lodged against him. The police had left the matter to the wisdom of the education department.



Deputy Inspector of Schools, Cachar, Parvez Neehal Hazari told this newspaper on Monday that he had sent Das on leave for a month to restore order in the school and asked a senior teacher of the school to take charge.

He said some female teachers were livid with Das over matters pertaining to duties. "They would often call me over the phone and lodge a complaint against him. So, I decided to send him on leave for a month," the Deputy Inspector of Schools said. According to local media reports, Das sought to "caution" those teachers who were not doing their duties properly. Hazari said he had watched the video but did not find the teacher along with the machwere not doing their duties properly.

Hazari said he had watched the video but did not find the teacher along with the machete when he visited the school on learning about the incident.

Dengue: Educational institutes shut

The authorities in Assam shut all schools and colleges in and around Diphu, the headquarters of Karbi Anglong district, following an outbreak of dengue that assumes an alarming proportion. Between November 1 and 5, Assam recorded 285 dengue cases, 271 of them in Karbi Anglong alone. A statement issued by the principal secretary of Karbi Anglong Autonomous Council said, "As a preventive measure against the epidemic, all educational institutions – both government and private and from non-formal pre-schools (Anganwadi) to colleges falling within Diphu Municipal Board and Greater Diphu Town area, shall remain closed until November 12, 2022." ENS

Honour killing in MP: In-laws murder man

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Raipur

IN an alleged case of honour killing, a 23-year-old man was killed by his in-laws in Shivpuri district of Madhya Pradesh. The deceased Dheeru Jatav had married Chhaya in 2020 against the wishes of her family. Dheeru, who worked as a labourer in Ahmedabad, had come home on Deepawali. He was allegedly kidnapped and murdered brutally by in-laws on Sunday evening.

The couple, who have a one-year-old daughter Naira, hailed from the same caste. However, economically Dheeru's family was weaker than Chhaya's family. After knowing about Dheeru's arrival in his village, his in-laws led by father-in-law Suresh Jatav kidnapped him and attacked him with rods and pick-axes. Shivpuri district police superintendent Rajesh Kumar Chandel said that out of the seven accused, Suresh has been arrested, while raids are being conducted to nab remaining six accused.

OMG redux: Calcutta HC rules in favour of 'complainant' Goddess Kali

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

IN an incident reminiscent of the Hindi movie, Oh My God!, wherein a court case is filed against god, the Calcutta High Court has heard a petition involving Goddess Kali. However, unlike in the film, in which a shop owner sues god after his store is destroyed in an earthquake, the recent legal battle featured Goddess Kali as a complainant.

The petition was filed against the owners of shops located on the premises of the Kali temple at Bishnupur in South 24 Parganas for non-payment of rent. The caretaker of the temple figured as the co-petitioner, and claimed to be the representative of the goddess.

The court, during the hearing of the case, did not raise any questions about Goddess Kali being the petitioner. Justice Rajashekhar Mantha passed an order in her favour, asking the officer in-charge of the local police station to ensure that rent is collected from the owners of the permanent stalls and given to the temple.

According to court records, the temple of Sree Sree Anandamoyee Dadkhina Kalimata Tahakurani was established in 1995 by Panchanan Chakrabarty. He later purchased three acres of adjoining land in the name of the temple in 2002, where 150 permanent and 250 temporary stalls were rented out by the temple's management committee. The rent was deposited in the name of the temple.

After Chakrabarty's death, a dispute arose between his children, Kanailal and Satyendranath, surfaced in 2010. Kanailal moved Alipore court seeking authorisation to run the temple and its development work. This was challenged by his brother. The lower court appointed two receivers in 2019 which failed to sort out the issue.

"Satyendranath was collecting rent from shop owners illegally and was not giving any fund to the temple. He was depriving Goddess Kali. I complained to local police station, gram panchayat and higher authorities, but no one came forward to solve the issue," Kanailal said.

He then decided to move the Calcutta High Court. "Since Goddess Kali was being deprived and she was the victim, I decided to submit the petition in her name. I am the co-petitioner who represented the deity in the court," Kanailal added.

No question raised about deity being petitioner

The petition was filed against the owners of shops located on the premises of the Kali temple at Bishnupur in South 24 Parganas for non-payment of rent. The court, during the hearing of the case, did not raise any questions about Goddess Kali being the petitioner. Justice Rajashekhar Mantha passed an order in her favour, asking the officer in-charge of the local police station to ensure that rent is collected from the owners of the permanent stalls and given to the temple.

NO IMRAN ATTACK FIR YET, PAKISTAN SC SETS DEADLINE

Tells police to file FIR within 24 hours, raps police chief over delay

Supporters of Imran Khan in Karachi protest the attack on him | AFP

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN'S Supreme Court on Monday ordered the Inspector General of the Punjab province to register a case on the gun attack on Imran Khan within 24 hours, a directive hailed by the former prime minister's party as a "first step towards justice".

On Sunday, Imran said that an FIR has not been registered so far on the botched "assassination attempt" on his life as authorities are refusing to file the case unless he removes an Army general's name from the complaint.

Imran, who suffered bullet injuries in the right leg on Thursday, was discharged from the hospital on Sunday after undergoing successful surgery. The 70-year-old former prime minister has now been moved to a private residence in Lahore.

The Supreme Court on Monday directed Punjab police chief Faisal Shahkar to register an FIR of the gun attack on Imran within 24 hours, the Dawn newspaper reported.

Chief Justice Umar Ata Bandial said that the apex court would take suo motu notice if the FIR was not registered, the report added.

He also asked Shahkar, who joined the hearing from the SC's Lahore registry via video link, why the FIR was not registered.

"Tell us when the FIR will be registered," he said, adding that there should be a concrete reason for not registering the FIR. "Working according to the law, the court is with you," the CJP said, directing the IG to get officials to probe into the matter. The CJP assured the provincial police chief that nobody would interfere in his work till the time he was posted at the IG. "IG sahib, you do your job. If someone interferes, the court would interfere in their work," he said.

Meanwhile, PTI's Fawad Chaudhry has termed the Supreme Court's directives regarding the registration of a first information report on the attack against Imran as the "first step towards justice".

IMRAN ASKS PREZ TO DEFINE OPERATIONAL LINES FOR ARMY

Imran Khan has urged Pakistan President Arif Alvi to define the "clear operational lines" of the Pakistan Army's media wing and order a probe how its head along with the ISI chief could hold a "highly political press conference" to publicly rebut him and try to create a "false narrative." In a letter sent to President Alvi on Sunday and published by the media on Monday, the former prime minister wrote that since the removal of the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) party-led government by him, Pakistan has been "confronted with an ever-increasing scale of false allegations, harassment, arrests, and custodial torture." Imran, who suffered bullet injuries in the leg on Thursday when two gunmen fired a volley of bullets at him while leading a protest march against the Shehbaz Sharif government, alleged that Interior Minister Rana Sanaullah has 'repeatedly issued death threats' to him. The 70-year-old chief of PTI said that he was informed of an assassination plot hatched by Prime Minister Shahbaz Sharif, Interior Minister Rana Sanaullah and a senior military official, the Express Tribune newspaper reported. Imran requested that as the Head of the State of Pakistan and also as the Supreme Commander of the Armed Forces, President Alvi take note of the "following serious wrongdoings that undermine Pakistan's national security".

IndiGo grounds planes on supply chain issues

Airline is evaluating measures such as re-induction and wet leasing of aircraft to minimise the economic impact

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

NEARLY 30 aircraft of Indigo are grounded due to supply chain disruptions and the country's biggest airline is evaluating measures such as re-induction and wet leasing of aircrafts to minimise the economic impact.

At the end of September 2022, IndiGo had 279 aircraft in its fleet, a fall of 3 aircraft when compared with June 2022.

"Globally, the aviation industry continues to face supply chain disruptions. While it is our immediate priority to deploy adequate capacity to serve our customers, we are actively engaged with our OEM (original equipment manufacturing) partners to work on mitigation measures that should ensure the continuity of our network and operations," said a spokesperson at IndiGo. The spokesperson added that some of the measures being evaluated to minimise the economic impact include slowing down redeliveries via lease extensions, exploring the reinduction of aircraft into the fleet, and evaluating the wet lease options within the regulatory guidelines.

A wet lease is a leasing arrangement whereby one airline (the lessor) provides an aircraft, complete crew, maintenance, and insurance (ACMI) to another airline, which pays by hours operated. Last month, IndiGo's request for wet leasing Boeing planes from Turkish Airlines for up to two years was cancelled by the aviation regulator DGCA. The regulator, however, allowed IndiGo to wet lease the planes for up to six months. On November 1, aviation consultancy firm CAPA said over 75 planes of Indian carriers, which accounts for nearly 10-12% of the Indian fleet, are currently grounded due to maintenance and engine-related issues. "These will have a significant impact on financials in the second half," CAPA had said in its India Mid-Year Outlook 2023.

Hit by higher fuel prices and foreign exchange losses, InterGlobe Aviation, the operator of India's largest airline IndiGo, on Friday reported a surge in net loss for second quarter of FY23 to nearly ₹1,600 crore. Grounding of aircraft also comes at a time when competition in the skies is expected to heat up as the Tata Group-run Air India has started to realign its airline business and has set an ambitious target to achieving 30% share in the domestic as well as international (to and from India) market over the next five years.

Facebook parent Meta plans massive layoffs, says report

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

AFTER microblogging site Twitter sacked nearly 3,500 employees worldwide, including 180 in India, various reports suggest Facebook-parent company Meta and edtech major Unacademy too will announce layoffs soon.

A report carried by a news agency said the company will begin layoffs this week and that it might affect thousands of employees. Meta has over 87,000 employees worldwide.

Last month when Meta announced its third quarter results, CEO Mark Zuckerberg said, in 2023, the company will focus investments on a small number of high priority growth areas. This means some teams will grow and most other teams will stay flat or shrink over the next year, indicating layoffs in coming months. "We expect to end 2023 as either roughly the same size, or even a slightly smaller organisation than we are today," Zuckerberg said.

The layoffs come at a time when the company is struggling with growing losses. It has also invested heavily in the metaverse business. Meta's Q3 total revenue stood at $27.7 billion, down 4% or up to 2% on a constant currency basis. Also, its pace of hiring slowed in the third quarter. Meta added only 3,700 net new hires in the third quarter down from Q2 net additions of 5,700.

Last week Twitter fired over 3,500 employees or half of its workforce. Though reports suggest it called back a few employees, a former employee in India said nobody was asked to return. Of nearly 250 people, about 180 people were fired in India. In India, edtech companies have been laying off people citing fund crunch. After Byju's announced firing 2,500 staff, Unacademy will fire 10% of its workforce- close to 350 employees. In an mail to employees, Unacademy CEO Gaurav Munjal said, "Funding has significantly slowed down and a large portion of our core business has moved offline... around 10% of Unacademy employees across the group will be impacted because of this, and if you are one of the impacted-you will be receiving a detailed communication within 48 hours from HR." The firm plans to give severance pay equivalent to notice period and an additional two months to fired employees.

Govt's efforts to cut bad loans yield results, says FM Sitharaman

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

FINANCE Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Monday said the government's efforts to reduce non-performing assets (NPAs) and improve the financial health of public sector banks (PSBs) are yielding results as all of them declared net profit of ₹25,685 crore in the second quarter of FY23.

"The continuous efforts of our government for reducing NPAs and further strengthening the health of PSBs are now showing tangible results. All 12 PSBs declared net profit of ₹25,685 crore in Q2FY23 and total ₹40,991 crore in H1FY23, up by 50% and 31.6%, respectively (y-o-y)," Sitharaman tweeted.

State Bank of India reported 74% jump YoY in profit to ₹13,265 crore, Canara Bank registered a 89% rise in profit to ₹2,525 crore, UCO Bank' profit grew 145% to ₹504 crore and Bank of Baroda's profits surged by 58.07% to ₹3,312.42 crore, said the minister.

The net bad loans of India's largest lender SBI were 0.80% of the loan book as against 1.52% in a year-ago period, while PNB's net NPAs too declined to 3.80% as against 5.49%.

The two PSBs - Punjab National Bank (PNB), and Bank of India -- witnessed a decline in their quarterly profits. While PNB's July-September profits dipped by 63% to ₹411 crore, Bank of India's profits fell by 9% in the same quarter. Their profits plunged on account of higher provisioning for bad loans.

PNB's provisions for bad loans expanded to ₹3,555.98 crore in the July-September quarter of FY23 as compared with ₹2,692.74 crore in the year-ago period.

Meanwhile, Bank of India's (BoI) total provisions more than doubled to ₹1,912 crore in the second quarter of FY23 from ₹894 crore in the corresponding period of last year.

"A majority of the provisions came on standard accounts belonging to state governments in which payments were delayed and hence provisions had to be made after a Reserve Bank of India (RBI) inspection," BoI's chief executive officer (CEO) AK Das had said.

Banks hint at slower pace of deposit rate hike even as lending rates go up

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

EVEN as banks have fully passed on the impact of repo rate hike since May this year to borrowers, they have hinted at a slower pace of increase in deposit rates.

Managements of large PSU banks -- State Bank of India, Bank of Baroda (BoB) and Punjab National Bank -- have recently hinted they have sufficient liquidity, and they may go slow on raising deposit rates.

These banks have said they have enough 'space' in terms of liquidity to continue for another quarter or two without worrying about raising funds via deposits at higher rates.

Sanjiv Chaddha, MD and CEO, BoB, in an analyst call after Q2 results said the bank has a domestic credit-to-deposit (CD) ratio of 73% (which means only 73% of the deposit raised has been deployed as loans), and so the bank has little scope for allowing loan portfolio to grow at a faster rate than deposit rates.

The RBI has raised loan rates by 190 basis points since May this year. While banks have fully passed on the impact of repo rate hike to borrowers, they have been slow in passing on the benefit to depositors.

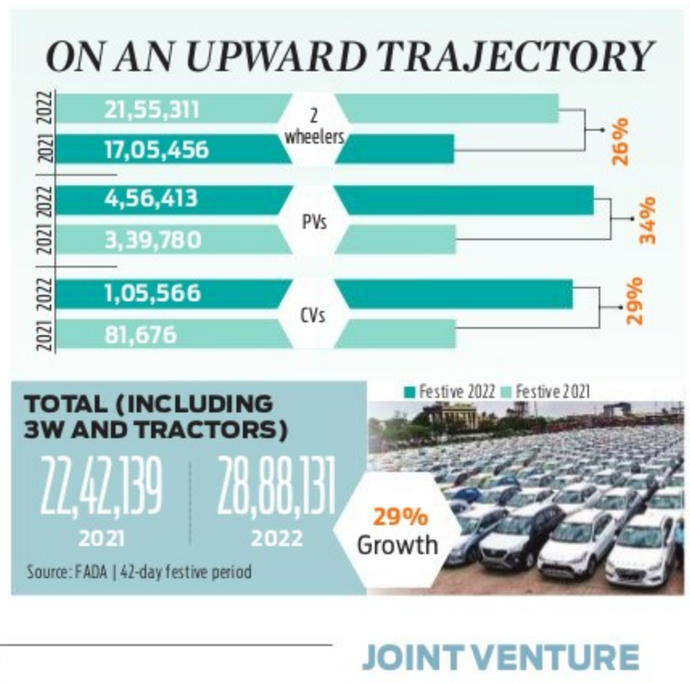
For example, SBI recently said that it has hiked the deposit rates by 80 bps but fully passed on the impact of repo rate hike to borrowers.

Banks have seen their loan portfolio grow at a much faster rate than deposits in the current financial year. SBI's loan portfolio has grown at 21% in the second quarter of the financial year compared with 10% growth in deposits. BoB has seen its deposit rates growing at 14% compared to 21% growth in loan portfolio in September quarter.

BoB's Chadda said the bank's cost of deposit has remained the same in the first half of the financial year.

After best festive sales in 4 yrs, auto sales may face headwinds

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi



AUTO sales hit a four-year peak in the recently concluded 42-day festive season, according to sales data released by the Federation of Automobile Dealers Associations (FADA) on Monday.

Retail sales across categories grew 29% year-on-year (YoY) during the period to 28.88 lakh units as compared to the 42-day period last year. When compared with the pre-covid festive season of 2019, sales this time was up by 6%.

"Festive'22 brought cheers to the auto industry as for the first time customers of every category came out in good numbers and took part in festive purchases. As anticipated earlier, PV segment saw the best year in a decade by outgrowing 2020 numbers by 2%," said FADA President Manish Raj Singhania. More than 4.56 lakh passenger vehicles (PVs) were sold this festive season, up 34% YoY.

In the next few months, however, auto sales are expected to be under pressure for reasons such as customers waiting for new launches next year and increase in vehicle prices due to new production norms. Homegrown automaker Tata Motors has already implemented a price hike across its PV range by 0.9%. The carmaker attributes this to the direct impact of increased input costs.

"With festivities ending, the immediate next month generally witnesses a certain amount of softness in sales. While farmers will start receiving their crop realisations next, the overall sentiment continues to show some headwinds, especially in the 2W rural segment," said FADA in a note.

It added that most automakers will now start migrating towards manufacturing OBD-2 norms vehicles. This will definitely see a steep price increase across all categories of vehicles as and when they hit the market.

Two-wheelers sales this festive season grew by 26% to 21.55 lakh units and three wheelers reported the highest growth at 68% to 55,435 units. Commercial vehicles and tractors reported a 29% and 30% growth to 105,566 units and 77,602 units, respectively.

Q2FY23 RESULTS

CIL net profit up by 106% to ₹6,044 crore

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

STATE-OWNED Coal India Limited (CIL) reported a 106% increase in its consolidated net profit to ₹6,044 crore for the quarter endeding September 30, 2022 (FY23).

The company's net profit was at ₹2,933 crore a year ago for the same period.

Sequentially, net profit after tax (PAT) of CIL fell 32% from ₹8,832.86 crore in the previous quarter ending June (Q1FY23).

The company's consolidated revenue increased by 28.1% YoY to ₹29,838 crore during the quarter, as compared to ₹23,291 crore in the same period last year.

However, on a sequential basis, revenue is 15% lower from ₹35,092 crore reported in the previous quarter. The miner's consolidated EBITDA is ₹7,280 crore. Its expenses widened to ₹23,770 crore in this quarter from ₹20,424.52 crore in the corresponding quarter of the previous fiscal. The company produced 139.228 million tonnes of coal, and its offtake also improved to 154.533 million tonnes from 147.434 million tonnes in Q2 FY22. The company has also approved a dividend of ₹15 per share.

Paytm loss widens to ₹571 cr; hopes to turn profitable by Sept 2023

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

AS expected, Paytm continues to report big quarterly losses. One97 Communications, which operates under the Paytm brand, on Monday reported widening of consolidated loss to ₹571 crore for the quarter ending September 2022 (Q2FY23) as against a net loss of ₹473 crore in the same period last year.

On a sequential basis, however, it witnessed a reduction in losses. Paytm had posted a loss of ₹644.4 crore in the quarter ending June.

The loss-making firm is confident it will turn profitable by September 2023.

The fintech major reported that its earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization (EBITDA) before employee stock ownership plan (ESOP) cost stood at negative ₹166 crore, improving 61% YoY.

"Since we shared our operating break-even guidance in April 2022, we have been able to drive a ₹201 crore improvement in EBITDA before ESOP cost, and continue to maintain the guidance of turning profitable by September 2023," the company said.

The Softbank backed firm's consolidated revenue from operations in Q2FY22 jumped 76% to ₹1,914 crore from ₹1,086 crore in the same quarter last fiscal. Sequentially, revenue grew by 14%.

The company's share prices closed 0.25% higher on Monday at ₹652. All eyes are now on the stock, which often is called one of the biggest wealth guzzlers of recent times, as lock-in periods of at least 10 companies including Nykaa, Policy Bazaar and Paytm are set to expire for pre-IPO investors.

Meanwhile, PB Fintech, operator of Policybazaar, reported narrowing of losses to ₹187 crore for Q2FY23 as against ₹204 crore loss in Q2FY22.

JOINT VENTURE

L&T Realty forms JV with CapitaLand

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

L&T Realty has formed a commercial partnership with Singapore-based CapitaLand India Trust Management, trustee-manager of CapitaLand India Trust, to develop nearly 6 million square feet of prime office spaces across Chennai, Bengaluru, and Mumbai. Under the pact, L&T will build and develop office spaces, while CapitaLand will market the office spaces. The projects are expected to begin at the second half of 2024, and CaptitaLand will acquire ownership of these properties in a phased manner. Both entities will make an announcement at a later date when definitive agreements are signed.

IPO-bound unicorn CarDekho Group to infuse $100 million in Rupyy

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

IPO-bound unicorn CarDekho Group has planned to infuse $100 million in its fintech entity Rupyy in a mix of debt and equity.

Rupyy is a specialised fintech platform that offers financing options to automobile customers and retailers. The infusion has been planned to scale up the NBFC business, technology and launch new product categories.

Rupyy had crossed ₹500 core of monthly disbursal volume of car loans in September 2022. It plans to hit ₹10,000 crore annualised disbursals by March 2023, CarDekho said.

Namit Jain, co-founder and CEO, Rupyy, said, "This infusion from our parent company will amplify the processes manifolds. As we continue to expand in different verticals and enter new regional markets, we aim to represent 35 - 40% of the segment's market share."

Rupyy recently unveiled the QR code-based loan platform, which is available to over 2,200 vehicle dealerships and distributors nationwide.

Amit Jain, co-founder and CEO, CarDekho Group, said, "On the back of tech-based solutions and learnings, Rupyy has solved all the challenges that a customer faces while applying for a used car loan. Rupyy is already on a strong growth trajectory and with this infusion, it's ready to disrupt the entire used car finance business of our country and take it to a whole new level."

The brand also launched the new car loan category and scaled it up to a 50 crore monthly disbursals rate in a few months. Jaipur's first unicorn CarDekho group has over 55 million monthly active users on its group portals – CarDekho.com, BikeDekho.com, ZigWheels.com, Powerdrift.com etc. The company also operates aninsurtech brand – InsuranceDekho.

'Reforms in satellite comm industry to reduce cost'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

BROADBAND INDIA FORUM (BIF) on Monday said the reforms introduced by the Department of Telecommunication (DoT) in satellite communications will significantly enhance the ease of doing business (EoDB) and help reduce costs in the sector.

The forum; which has members like Meta, Cisco and satellite biggies such as OneWeb, Hughes; said the action on Network Operations Control Center (NOCC) charges and the removal of MPVT (mandatory performance verification testing) charges would lead to an estimated savings of ₹120 crore per annum for the satellite broadcast and communication sector. "All measures announced by DoT towards simplification of processes and procedures and waiver/reduction in charges/fees for permissions/licences, which are part of the liberal and simplified framework, is likely to lead to increase the provisioning of satcom in unserved and underserved areas of the country and are welcome steps in the journey towards achieving Broadband for All," said the forum.

DoT suggested the single-stage scrutiny process by WPC & NOCC instead of the erstwhile multi-stage process, which used to take 6-8 months. Now the process is brought down to 6 weeks. BIF said it would lead to ease of doing business and faster rollouts and efficiency.

More Olympians in Athletes' Commission, NSFs to 'appoint' two reps

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THE Athletes' Commission will be rolled out with the objective of giving more power to the athletes and make their voice heard within the Indian Olympic Association (IOA). The one-man committee appointed by the Supreme Court, retd judge L Nageswara Rao, has released the IOA Athletes' Commission Regulations on Monday.

There will be 10 members, five male and five female athletes, who will be elected by their peers. According to the guidelines, "six athletes (3 males, including at least one from an individual sport and at least one from a team sport, and 3 females, including at least one from an individual sport and at least one from a team sport), who, at the time of their election, have participated in at least one of the last three (3) editions of the Olympic Games. At least one of these six athletes shall be someone who has participated in the last three (3) editions of the Winter Games (Olympics). If no athlete is available to fulfil this criteria, then an athlete who has participated in the last three editions of the Asian Winter Games."

Another set of four athletes (2 males and 2 females) will be selected, among those "have won at least one (1) medal in any of the last three (3) editions of the Asian Games, Commonwealth Games, National Games or the Senior National Championship." This means the first six athletes will be Olympians, while the rest would comprise medallists at Asian, Commonwealth, National Games and senior nationals in any of the last three editions.

Who will select?

Interesting part is who would be considered peers. According to the document, the NSFs' Athletes' Commission can nominate two representatives (one male and one female) who meet the above criteria. Going by the first criteria, one who has participated in Olympics (Summer or Winter) in at least one of the last three editions (in case of Winter Olympics, Asian Winter Games too can be taken into consideration). And by the second, it means that an athlete who has won a medal in any of the last three editions of the Asian, Commonwealth, National Games or the Senior National Championships. Such appointments should be made through the NSFs' Athletes' Commission. Otherwise through its executive board only for 2022 elections. Interestingly, some of the NSFs do not have such a commission.

As it stands, the pool will be restricted to select athletes. It also depends on who the NSFs nominate and if there are 35-40 NSFs who are part of the Olympic, Asian and Commonwealth Games programme, it will make the pool smaller. That means the commission will be elected by around electoral college of 70-80 appointed by the NSFs. The International Olympic Committee has a bigger pool of athletes to elect their representative. "The Commission is composed of a majority of athletes who, at the time of their election/nomination, are participating at national level in a sport on the Olympic programme or have done so within the previous eight years," says the IOC guideline.

The objective of the Athletes' Commission among others is "to represent the views of the athletes and make their voice heard within the IOA, consider issues related to athletes and provide advice to the IOA and represent the rights and interests of athletes and make related recommendations."

The chairperson and vice chairperson will be part of the general assembly with voting rights. While it "shall elect amongst its members two (2) other persons to be voting members at the IOA's General Assembly." And the two elected (one male and one female) members should "have participated in at least one of the last three (3) editions of the Olympic Games."

The Athletes Commission will then elect eight Sportspersons of Outstanding Merit (SOM) as well. They are part of the voting members in the IOA general body. Even representative(s) from India who is/are a part of the IOC's or OCA's Athletes Commission, will be ex-officio members each with a right to vote.

HOW THEY MATCH UP — THE FINAL FOUR

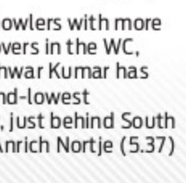
None of the four teams that have made it to the semifinals of the T20 World Cup have had a perfect Super 12s. They have had their share of ups and downs, and would want to address the chinks in their armour before the knockouts. Gomesh S looks at how the teams have fared, who holds the key and plausible weaknesses...

India

ROAD TO THE SEMIS

Rohit Sharma & Co would be thinking what would have happened had Virat Kohli not connected those two sixes against Pakistan in their opening game. Things could have been pretty different for them, but Kohli, Suryakumar Yadav and Arshdeep Singh have helped them to the knockouts. KL Rahul and R Ashwin have chipped in here and there, but by and large, it has been a three-man show for the Men in Blue so far.

THE X-FACTOR



Yes, it was Kohli who set it up, but it would be hard to look past Suryakumar. The captain called it before the World Cup as well. To score 225 runs in 5 innings while batting at No 4 is not a big deal, but to do it at a strike rate of 193.96 takes the cake. He has taken the conditions, opponents and every other factor out of the equation and has dispatched the white cherry across most of the grounds. India would be hoping that the law of averages don't catch up to him come Thursday.

THE ACHILLES HEEL

The openers. Their stands in the WC read 7, 11, 23, 11 and 27. Rohit has had a tournament to forget so far and Rahul is just picking some form. If that is not enough, their middle-order (nos 5-7), Hardik Pandya, Dinesh Karthik and Axar Patel, have not had a good tournament so far. They have relied heavily on their No 3 and 4 to take them across the line every single time. It is a worrying sign.

5.4 Among bowlers with more than 15 overs in the WC, Bhuvneshwar Kumar has the second-lowest economy, just behind South Africa's Anrich Nortje (5.37)

England

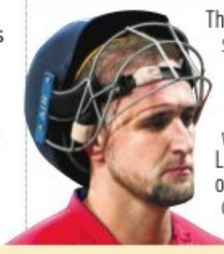
ROAD TO THE SEMIS

They started with a comfortable win against Afghanistan. But losing to Ireland and the game versus Australia getting washed out meant England were in a bit of trouble. Since then, openers Alex Hales and Jos Buttler have stepped up, Ben Stokes has come to the party and Mark Wood has been breathing fire. Despite not lighting up the tournament, they are peaking at the right time.

THE X-FACTOR

5/10, 2/31, 2/26, 1/27 are the figures of Sam Curran in the World cup. Granted, he has had support from Wood and Chris Woakes, but the left-arm seamer has notched up his bowling big time. His batting might not be effective, but England would take this version of Curran, who could make early inroads. With the record of Indian batters against left-arm pacers well known, he would hold key for England in the semifinals.

THE ACHILLES HEEL



They have had one player or the other step up when the team needed the most, but consistency is what's lacking for them. They haven't really had a perfect game where everything went their way. Moeen Ali and Liam Livingstone are yet to fire and that will only put extra pressure on Buttler, who carries this batting line-up at the top.

7.93 They concede only 7.93 runs per over in the death so far, which is essentially where India have scored most of their runs in the tournament

New Zealand

ROAD TO THE SEMIS

Finn Allen set the tone in their opening game with a swashbuckling 42 before Glenn Phillips took over (195 runs at 163.86 SR). Devon Conway had a good game, Kane Williamson did his part vs Ireland, and in the bowling department, every single one has contributed equally.

THE X-FACTOR

Ish Sodhi and Mitchell Santner have bowled 31.2 overs cumulatively, accounting for 14 wickets while going for just 6.57 runs per over. The pacers have contributed as well, but it is the spin duo that has stood apart in comparison with the other three teams that have made it to the semifinals. They will have a vital role to play against Pakistan top-order.

THE ACHILLES HEEL

Kane Williamson. It is the hard truth. He might have led team well throughout the tournament, but his approach with the bat could cost them dearly, especially in a high-scoring game as it did against England where he scored a run-a-ball 40 while chasing 180. He would want to replicate what he did against Ireland on Wednesday.

189.58 Finn Allen has the highest strike as an opener in the World Cup and could take the game away in a matter of few overs

Pakistan

ROAD TO THE SEMIS

They got off to a disastrous start, losing to India and then Zimbabwe. Against South Africa, they were 43/4, but somehow Pakistan pulled off a Pakistan to find themselves in the final four. That Netherlands shocked South Africa sure came in handy. Even against Bangladesh, they almost lost it before the middle-order rescued them and got them home. It is going to be hard to predict which Pakistan will turn up on Wednesday.

THE X-FACTOR

A lot of things have fell in place for Pakistan as the WC progressed. Mohammad Haris coming in as a replacement. Iftikhar Ahmed's batting and Shaheen Shah Afridi's bowling. If there has to be one name, it is Shadab Khan who has been the pillar of this team. He has picked up ten wickets with a economy of 6.22 and is striking at 177.27 with the bat even though they haven't used him well in the batting department.

THE ACHILLES HEEL

Mohammad Rizwan and Babar Azam were supposed to be their strengths. They have carried their batting in T20Is for years now. But it has been a horrendous tournament for them. Babar averages 7.8 while Rizwan 20.6 and it is the middle-order that had to pull a lot of weight because of their conservative approach at the top. If they don't change, it could be hard for Pakistan to get past the semifinals.

6.45 Pakistan have the lowest economy in the middle-overs (7-16) among teams that made it to the Super 12s in this World Cup

India batter Suryakumar Yadav's famous scoop in their final group stage match against Zimbabwe at the Melbourne Cricket Ground on Sunday | AFP

Shot to fame: SKY is the limit of innovation

GOMESH S @Chennai

THE shot looked out of the world, as if it defied laws of physics. Generating the angle from way outside off stump against a pacer before scooping the ball over behind square-leg for a six. It was surreal and was a heady mix of class and innovation. It had been dissected over and over again. It has been discussed over dinner table, then over breakfast, and in the 24 hours since Suryakumar Yadav put up that sweep-hitting shot against Zimbabwe, the Instagram reel of that scoop on the official T20 World Cup account has crossed 1, 637, 261 plays.

For SKY, as he is fondly called, this was not something out of the blue. "I practiced that stroke a lot when I used to play rubber-ball cricket," he told former head coach Ravi Shastri after the match. It seldom happens that one man's exploit overshadows the win of a team. The Melbourne Cricket Ground where India posted the 71-run win too was abuzz. Supporters were in frenzy yelling in front of the TV camera as the ball sailed over the ropes.

It is tempting to break the entire shot down. Having been on the receiving end of some Suryakumar smacking earlier, Richard Ngarava came over the wicket to create a tougher angle in the final over. He went for that wide yorker. Suryakumar shuffled a bit, moved his front foot across on the wide line to sweep the left-arm pacer with his rubber wrists, generating enough power to send it over the square-leg boundary.

Only when an athlete enters such a zone where they see nothing but themselves and doing what they do best, they would be able to deliver with the kind of impact and consistency Suryakumar has shown so far. And it doesn't come without hard work. Shastri's successor Rahul Dravid attests that. "If I look at Surya from a couple of years ago, just to see how he takes care of his body and the amount of time he spends on his fitness, I think he's just really earning the reward," Dravid said.

For any athlete, phases where they look invincible to the rest of the world are hard to come by. At best, they come once in a career if they are among the best. Virat Kohli had a stretch in 2016 where he did not seem like he could get out. He knows what it's like to be in such a zone. And when he comments on a player, saying that he is on a different level, you have to take him on his word. For Suryakumar, at the moment, is batting on a level that is several notches above the rest of the world.

Southampton sack manager Hasenhuttl

LONDON: Southampton sacked manager Ralph Hasenhuttl on Monday after slumping into the Premier League relegation zone following a dismal 4-1 defeat against Newcastle. The south coast club swung the axe after their eighth loss in 14 league games on Sunday left them languishing in 18th place. "Southampton Football Club can confirm it has parted company with men's first-team manager Ralph Hasenhuttl," the club said in a statement.

Liverpool owners will 'consider' new shareholders

LONDON: Liverpool owners Fenway Sports Group say they are open to considering new shareholders as reports swirl that the Premier League club have been put up for sale. The Athletic reported on Monday that US-based FSG is "inviting offers" for the 19-time English champions. FSG are reported to have asked investment banks Goldman Sachs and Morgan Stanley to assist with the evaluation process.

Gunathilaka denied bail on sex assault charges

SYDNEY: An Australian court on Monday refused bail for Sri Lankan cricketer Danushka Gunathilaka after he was charged with four counts of sexual assault. Gunathilaka appeared wearing handcuffs by remote video link to the court in Sydney, speaking only to confirm his identity and that he could hear proceedings. Sri Lanka Cricket said separately that it had suspended the batsman.

Veteran Alves named in 26-man Brazil squad

SAO PAULO: Daniel Alves, 39, is the one major surprise as Brazil, one of the favourites to win the World Cup in Qatar, named their 26 man squad. The usual suspects, including the likes of Neymar and veteran Thiago Silva, are part of the squad.

Squad: Alisson, Ederson, Weverton, Marquinhos, Eder Militao, Danilo, Daniel Alves, Alex Sandro, Alex Telles, Thiago Silva, Bremer, Casemiro, Fabinho, Bruno Guimaraes, Fred, Lucas Paqueta, E Ribeiro, Neymar, Vini Jr, Gabriel Jesus, Antony, Raphinha, Richarlison, Gabriel Martinelli, Rodrygo, Pedro.

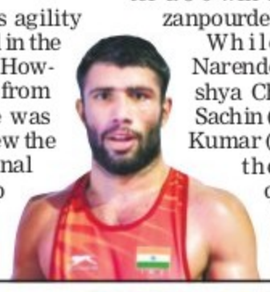
Asian C'ship: Sumit posts fighting win to advance

ENS @Chennai

INDIAN boxers have been racking up wins to assure medals over the last few days or so in the ongoing Asian Boxing Championships in Amman, Jordan.

Under the watch of Indian coaches and new high performance director, Bernard Dunne, the boxers, most of whom are fairly new to the international scene, have been making their presence felt. Sumit was the latest from the country to confirm a medal. However, he was thoroughly tested by his opponent on Monday. Up against Thailand's Borworn Kadamduan, the 75kg boxer recorded a win by split verdict (3-2).

Sumit displayed his agility to have the upper hand in the opening two rounds. However, the bout was far from over. Sensing that he was trailing, Borworn threw the kitchen sink in the final round, closing the gap in the process. But he still managed to fall short. Sumit will be up against the defending champion Jafarov Saidjamshid of Uzbekistan in the semifinals. Narender (+92kg) joined Sumit in the last four after a 5-0 win over Iman Ramezanpourdelavar of Iran.



While Sumit and Narender advanced, Lakshya Chahar (80kg) and Sachin (71kg) and Naveen Kumar (92kg) fell short in their respective quarterfinal bouts. Tokyo Olympics bronze medallist Lovlina Borgohain (75kg), who posted a hard-fought win in the quarterfinals, will be among seven Indian women pugilists in action on Wednesday.

Men's Worlds in May '23

In a presss conference in Dubai on Monday, IBA president Umar Kremlev confirmed that the men's World Boxing Championships 2023 will take place in Tashkent on May 1-14. The prize money will be a record $5.2 million. The meeting was attended by Nikhat Zareen.

Real challenge for Liverpool in CL

AFP @Paris

LIVERPOOL will have the chance to avenge last season's Champions League final defeat at the hands of Real Madrid after Jurgen Klopp's side were drawn on Monday to face the holders again in the last 16. Meanwhile, the other standout tie saw Paris Saint-Germain drawn to play Bayern Munich in a repeat of the 2020 final which was won by the German club. There was also a marquee clash in the Europa League as Barcelona drew Manchester United, a rematch of the 1999 Champions League final. Liverpool won five of their six group games but missed out on top spot to Napoli after losing 4-1 when the sides met in Italy. The Anfield club also lost the 2018 Champions League final to Real, who won their group ahead of RB Leipzig.

"They are two historic teams and the tie is going to be electric, fascinating for the fans," said Emilio Butragueno, a great former Real player who is now the director of institutional relations for the 14-time European champions.

Current domestic form suggests Real should be favourites, with Carlo Ancelotti's side unbeaten in La Liga while Liverpool are eighth in the Premier League despite winning away to Tottenham Hotspur on Sunday. However, both clubs will lose key players to the World Cup and Butragueno acknowledged much can change in the three months before the Champions League returns. PSG only missed out on topping their group because Benfica scored more away goals across all matches after the sides remarkably finished level on points, goal difference, goals scored and head to head. That left the Qatar-owned club exposed to a tough draw, a year on from their painful exit in the first knockout round at the hands of Real.

In terms of form they could not have got tougher than Bayern, who were the only side to win all six group matches, despite being in a section with Barcelona and Inter Milan.

Mohamed Salah (L) & Karim Benzema, two big names in the sport today, will be in the spotlight when Real Madrid and Liverpool meet in the last 16

DRAWS: Champions League (pre-quarterfinals): Club Brugge vs Benfica, Liverpool vs Real Madrid, RB Leipzig vs Manchester City, Inter vs Porto, Dortmund vs Chelsea, Eintracht Frankfurt vs Napoli, Milan vs Tottenham, PSG vs Bayern.
Europa League (first knockout round, select matches): RB Salzburg vs Roma, Sevilla vs PSV, Barcelona vs Manchester United, Juventus vs Nantes.

DAY'S DIARY

Demonetisation

On November 8, 2016, Prime Minister Narendra Modi announced 'demonetisation' to weed out black money from the country

INVALID NOTES

The move, which saw the currency notes of ₹500 and ₹1,000 denominations getting banned, wiped out 86% of India's currency overnight

EFFECT ON GDP

The GDP plummeted to 8.7% in 2016-17 as the banking system was struggling to put cash back into the system. Since then, it has climbed steadily to 14.5% in 2020-21

EARLIER IMPLEMENTS

In January 1978, the Indian government had demonetised ₹1,000, ₹5,000 and ₹10,000 notes in a bid to counter black money

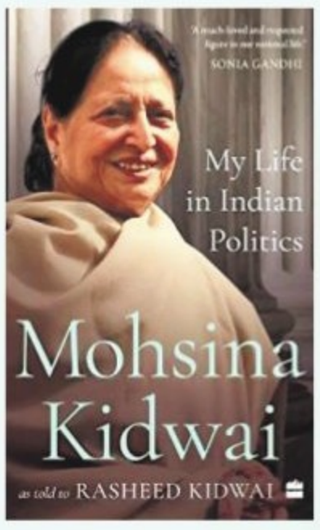
Upon the release of veteran politician Mohsina Kidwai's memoir My Life in Indian Politics, she and her co-author Rasheed Kidwai talk about the book, her political life, and more

A LIFE IN POLITY

TUNIR BISWAS

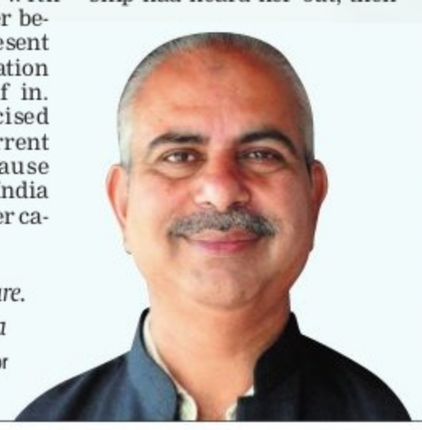
MOHSINA Kidwai calls herself a reluctant writer. Despite that, the 90-year-old politician, who has been one of the leading figures of the Indian National Congress (INC), felt it was time to pen her memoir after observing certain shifts in the political climate of the country. "Everyone has a book in them and perhaps I am no exception. I was a reluctant writer, often wondering, weighing over a range of political, ethical, and personal issues. But as I became less active in public life and saw various trends and shades in our country's polity, I firmed up my mind to write my memoir. This book is a story of my life but in many ways, it is also a journey of our post-Independent beloved country. As a political worker, it is clear that challenges have always been multiple and intricate but not insurmountable," says the former politician.

My Life in Indian Politics, the book in question, is co-authored by Mohsina and journalist Rasheed Kidwai. Rasheed took up the project to co-write the memoir because he felt Mohsina's story is an interesting one to share. "Normally there are various ways that books of eminent political personalities are written. I have authored a few independent autobiographies of political figures. This was the first time I was dabbling in a joint venture. Mohsina spoke to me at length about her life and her career. Essentially, the book is the narration of her life carved by a wordsmith, which was my role. She has been a participant in Indian politics for over six decades, I felt this was a fascinating project to be a part of," says Rasheed, who ensured that Mohsina approved every word in the book.



Throughout her career, she always believed that Muslims can live harmoniously in a multicultural, independent, and secular Indian society. During Rasheed's days spent in close proximity with Mohsina, he noticed her being disturbed at the present political and social situation our country finds itself in. "She has greatly exercised her critique of the current political identity because this is not the idea of India that she cherishes. In her career in Uttar Pradesh (UP), she won elections from Azamgarh (Eastern UP) and Meerut (Western UP). Anyone remotely connected with the socio-economic condition of UP and the caste matrix would vouch that finding acceptability in these two diverse regions is a rather insurmountable task. But today, it is difficult for a Muslim politician to do that. We can see that the number of Muslim candidates has been on a steady decline and you don't see such examples anymore. Mohsina was never looked at as a Muslim candidate even though she is an ardent practitioner of Islam," Rasheed says, adding that she had always preferred being judged as an Indian, and her core electoral team had a mix of people from different communities.

Mohsina is also known for her assessment of the INC. Rasheed believes that if at certain times the political leadership had heard her out, then perhaps the history of the party might have been different. "She had opposed former PM PV Narasimha Rao's politics, not just about his handling of the Babri Masjid case but several other things. She also had a different view on the Shah Bano case. She stood firm with what she thought was right even if her party didn't agree," says Rasheed.



Hailing from a conservative, aristocratic Muslim family of Awadh, Mohsina holds the distinction of winning Lok Sabha thrice — in 1978, 1980, and 1984. According to noted French scholar Christophe Jaffrelot, Muslim women face discrimination in a double bind: for their religion as well as their gender. Data suggests that barely 20 Muslim women have made it to the Lok Sabha among nearly 9,000 MPs voted since 1951. The grounds for discriminating Muslim women are still a prevalent reality. Rasheed feels Mohsina's memoir can come as a comforting account of hope for fellow Muslim women thinking about venturing into politics. "The representation of Muslim women in politics is still marginal. Even though some might argue against it, democracy is all about numbers. With the meagre numbers at hand, how can you justify the representation? Her story is about courage, conviction, and integrity. For example, when she retired from politics in 2016, she did not have a house in Delhi. There are so many examples of people with much shorter duration in politics having houses everywhere. She never did despite being the Housing Minister for the country. That's how a political leader should be," concludes Rasheed.

> This was the first time I was dabbling in a joint venture. The book is the narration of Mohsina's life carved by a wordsmith, which was my role — Rasheed Kidwai, co-author

> I was a reluctant writer, often wondering, weighing over a range of issues. But as I saw various shades in our country's polity, I firmed up my mind to write my memoir

BACKSTORY

BimaKavach, founded by Tejas Jain, is an insurance-tech platform started in 2021 to redefine the way SMEs and startups discover and obtain business insurance in India. There is no one-size-fits-all in business insurance, and customisation of products is gaining traction across the globe. More than 90 per cent startups fail globally due to lack of research, misreading market demand, and unexpected challenges. BimaKavach empowers startups and SMEs with insurance products that are simplified and suited for their unique business needs. It has co-created insurance products with different insurers to make the recommendation process less cumbersome. Usually, insurance companies do not approach the companies directly. They work with partners to distribute the products among the target SMEs and startups.

USP

It protects startups and SMEs while they are still on the learning curve, safeguarding them against financial, strategic, reputation, liability, business interruption, and security risks. The insurance products are available for early stage, growth stage and late stage startups/SMEs. UCO Bank organises walkathon

Vigilance Awareness Week 2022 is observed all over India under the apex Institution Central Vigilance Commission (CVC) from October 30 to November 6. The theme for the current year is 'Corruption Free India for a Developed Nation'. As part of Vigilance Awareness Week 2022, UCO Bank, zonal office, Bengaluru organised a walkathon on November 5, where participants held placards with messages related to the bank's commitment to eradicating corruption and the need of the customers' support in strengthening this commitment. The event was flagged off by Manoj Kumar Sahu – DGM & zonal manager Bengaluru Zone and Nilesh Parate – DGM field inspectorate, Bengaluru. The main purpose of the walkathon was to spread awareness among the general public about the ill effects of corruption, and zero tolerance towards it.

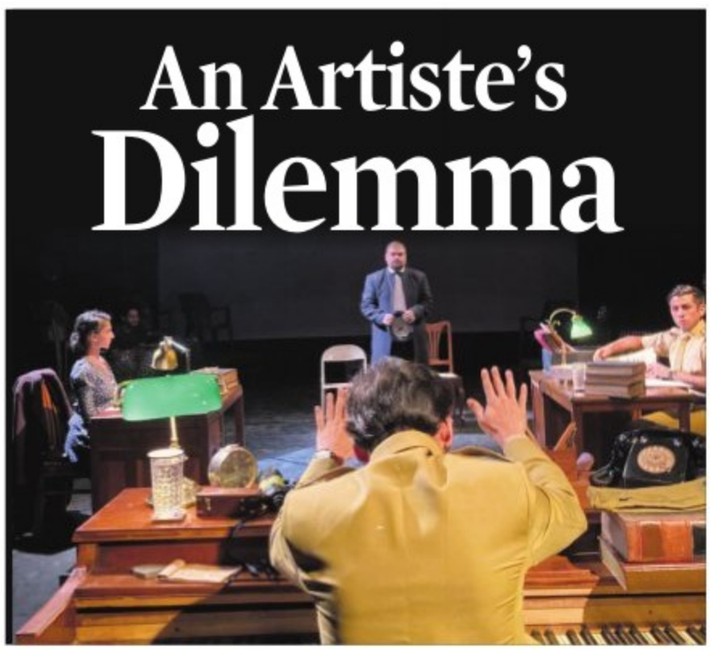
This weekend, Atul Kumar's critically-acclaimed play Taking Sides, which questions the morality of human beings through the struggles of arts and politics, will be staged in the city

An Artiste's Dilemma

MONIKA MONALISA

WRITTEN by British playwright Ronald Harwood, Taking Sides, directed by famous theatre artiste Atul Kumar is on a tour and is going to be staged in Bengaluru on November 12 and 13. This play is set in post-World War II Germany, during the period of 'denazification'. On the surface, the play is about the investigation of a world-famous music conductor of that time, Wilhelm Furtwangler.

Kumar, who is on a tight schedule due to the tour, tells CE that the plot makes sense to the current audience considering the present political condition. "It's been a struggle for the last few years because of the political climate in our country. A lot of artistes are questioning what's going on. The same politicians are terrifying and controlling our lives. We can see what's happening to artistes like standup comedians," says Kumar, who recently finished a successful show in Hyderabad.



The way Kumar – who is also a member of the cast – speaks about the plot so passionately, it might be assumed it's something that he could have experienced personally. But he clarifies it's a close friend of his 'who had a hard time'. "A friend of mine had put up a musical theatre of sorts and somebody took offense at what they were doing. An FIR was lodged and four artistes started fighting court cases. They finally won the case but the year was stressful for them," says Kumar, who calls the Bengaluru audience warm and responsive.

Kumar is also thrilled about this show since it marks the tenth anniversary of his theatre production company, The Company Theatre. Being in theatre for more than three decades, Kumar has drawn inspiration from renowned playwrights like Eugene Ionesco and Luigi Pirandello.

Having performed in many absurdist, comical, and larger-than-life plays, with visual elements and clown performances, Kumar says Taking Sides is very different from his previous plays. "It's realistic and straightforward. I am exploring realism through this," says Kumar, who is also gearing up for a web series that is soon going to release.

(Taking Sides will performed at Ranga Shankara on November 12 and 13)

QUICK FIX

SWEETENED BISCUITS

Contributed by Annie Sam, Kottayam

INGREDIENTS

- All purpose flour: 2.5 cups
- Sugar: 1 cup
- Ghee: 1/4 cup
- Green cardamom: 2
- Coconut: 1/2 cup
- Khus-Khus: 3 teaspoon
- Salt: 1/8 teaspoon
- Vegetable oil or ghee for deep frying

METHOD

- Blend sugar, coconut, khus-khus and green cardamom together to make fine powder. Don't add water while grinding the mixture.
- In a bowl, mix some flour, salt, ghee and ground powder. Mix it well with hand.
- Add small amount of water to knead the dough. The dough has to be tight and non-sticky.
- Divide the dough in six equal portions and make a ball. Take one ball and roll it like a thick chapatti. Cut it in round shape.
- Heat the oil and deep fry the biscuits on low heat till it turns golden brown. Deep fry 4-5 pieces at a time.

FIT BIT

EKA PADA PARIVRTTA TADASANA

(STANDING TWIST OPPOSITE HAND TO KNEE POSE)

This is a beginner-level pose that involves a twist while balancing the body on one leg. You can feel the connection of the feet to the earth while holding the other to build strength in the legs, the glutes, and connect to the core to support lower back.

STEPS

- Stand facing the right side of the body to the wall, inhale and lift the right leg up bending at the knees.
- Holding the wall with your right hand, exhale and hold the right knee with your left hand.
- Inhale and take the right thigh towards the left side stretching the sides of the upper thighs as the hips move in an internal rotation.
- Press the thighs closer to you, twist the hips inwards, and hold the posture for about 4 breaths.
- Balance; use the support of the wall.
- Release and relax.
- Turn the other way and hold the posture lifting the left leg and twisting towards the right. Stay for 4 breaths.
- Release and relax.

BENEFITS

- It helps to stretch the glutes and quads.
- Keeps the body stable, strengthens the wrist, elbow, and shoulder joints.
- You can feel a deep stretch at the core, lower back, chest and strengthen the neck.
- Increases hip mobility and range of motion of the spinal muscles.
- Boosts the performance of sports people, runners, dancers, and gymnasts.
- Stretches the diaphragm, impacting the functioning of the lungs.
- Enhances the balancing capacity of a person.
- Gives confidence; increases focus and concentration.
- Help kids and teens stay focused and balanced.
- Stretches and tones the legs.
- Releases the tightness in the chest, neck, shoulders, and lower back.
- It is a great stress buster if performed mindfully in connection with the breath.
- Reduces the pain caused by minor injuries to hamstrings, calves, or knees.
- A great pose for senior citizens to counteract the effect of ageing.

LIMITATIONS

Those suffering from vertigo, high BP, dizziness, headache, breathing problems should do the pose without twisting the head. People with injuries at joints of hips, knees, spine, or shoulders, or have undergone abdominal surgery, pregnant and menstruating women should avoid this pose.

Joy Bimal Roy, son of legendary filmmaker Bimal Roy, is displaying his collection of 'upcycled sarees' created out of old traditional weaves in the city over the weekend

WEAVING MEMORIES

DESE GOWDA

IN the ever-changing cycle of fashion trends, one attire remains eternal. The saree. Mumbai-based aesthete Joy Bimal Roy is in the city this weekend to host 'A Touch of Joy', a show where he displays his collection of 'upcycled sarees' created using materials from old Gadwals, Kanjeevarams, Kanthas and Dhakals.

Born to legendary filmmaker Bimal Roy and India's first woman photographer Manobina Roy, Joy grew up privileged. He took an interest in everything that was 'beautiful, poetic and gracious' and was deeply influenced by his parents and three accomplished sisters. Joy's tryst with sarees began during the pandemic, when he lost his sister Yashodhara. After seeing his sister's prized sarees lovingly stored in her room, Joy decided to give away those sarees to loved ones as a way to preserve and cherish her memory.

"My sister always dressed in sarees. People would joke and ask, 'Are you going to leave this saree for me?' And when she passed away, instead of leaving all her sarees to rot, I thought 'Why not give them away?' Old sarees are like heirlooms; they are filled with memories. Every saree has a story behind it. If a saree was worn by someone you deeply cared about, it can be hard to part with it. So, giving it new life allows people to preserve those memories," Joy shares.

Joy enjoyed sharing those sarees with loved ones, but soon realised he was running out of sarees and would have to stop. "I had to dig out sarees from odd places around the house. But it made me realise that I was enjoying giving away sarees so much that I didn't want to stop. So, I started asking people to donate their old ones," he says.

Joy soon started giving new leases of life to people's old sarees that were forgotten and tucked away. "It is like working on a jigsaw puzzle," Joy says, adding, "Some of these old sarees had their borders torn while their body was perfectly fine; some others were the exact opposite. I began playing around, contrasting full sarees with materials from a few; I discovered that the process is called upcycling, I didn't even know that it was a thing," he adds.

Later, Joy approached a store that sold artisanal and environment-friendly products in Mumbai, hoping to sell his upcycled sarees through it. "I approached 'Artisan' in Bombay, which sells handcrafted items. They also started a bank where people could donate old sarees," he adds.

Joy donates parts of the proceeds he receives from sales to a cancer charity. Having lost both his parents to the disease, Joy finds this to be his coping mechanism. "I always felt I hadn't done enough for my parents when they had cancer. I decided to donate parts of the proceeds that I would get from this work to charity."

Joy looks forward to sharing his work in Bengaluru, which he feels is more appreciative of his work than other cities. "I have various memories of Bengaluru; I was very young when I first visited the city, but I remember it very clearly. I'm delighted to be hosting a show here because I feel like Bengaluru has a sense of the aesthetic. There are more women in this city who wear sarees compared to Mumbai. So, I feel like there will be an understanding and appreciation for my work," Joy concludes.

OFTENTIMES, I am told poetry is for those who can afford leisure. Even on social media, I have found people making sarcastic remarks on poets, saying how useless their plight is. I get this great urge to narrate to these people how poems have changed the world and influenced lives; how poets like Langston Hughes, Adrienne Rich and Allen Ginsberg altered the course of history with their words.

Instead, let me tell you the story of a poem.

James Patrick Kinney and his family lived in Cheviot, a township on the west side of Cincinnati, Ohio during the civil rights movement in USA, during the 1960s. Back then, the town had a law, stating that no black person was allowed to move on its streets after dark. James Kinney and his friends thought this law was shameful and asked the city council to abolish it. The council told them that since no black family lived in Cheviot at that point, it will stay, opining that any black person on the streets after dark was up to no good. Kinney and his group managed to have a family of black American activists move to Cheviot and helped them settle there. They approached the council again and asked to abolish the law, under new circumstances. The council had to abolish it.

However, Kinney was extremely saddened with the way the all-white community in Cheviot reacted to this 'change'. It was then that he decided to share with them a poem that he had written, titled The Cold Within. It is a tale of six people trapped in a cold place during winter. The fire keeping them warm is about to die and each of them has a wooden log. However, all of them refuse to offer it for their own reasons. A white woman sees a black man in the group and does not offer the log. The next man sees none from his religious group among those gathered. The third man is very poor and holds back, as he envies the rich. The fourth one, a rich man, does not want to give anything to the 'unworthy' poor. The black man in the group thinks it is his chance to take revenge on white people. The last man is too selfish to help if there is no benefit in return. None of them is ready to let go, and in the end, are found frozen to death with logs tightly clutched in their hands.

Effectively portraying the futility and stupidity of racism and bigotry, this poem depicts some of the issues that divide human beings and equates the coldness in people's hearts to death. The Cold Within is one of the most shared poems to this day. Says a lot about our present circumstances.

This is how a poem makes an impact. Poets employ incredible means to explore the human psyche and present their findings in a succinct manner. From Shakespeare to various modern political and counter-culture movements, poetry has played a major part in changing views of society across the world. Poems have made a real difference.

GRIOTS AND THE MUSIC OF WEST AFRICAN TRIBES

TUNING IN
Bindu & Ambi Subramaniam

(The authors run SaPa - the Subramaniam Academy of Performing Arts)

MANY of us are guilty of thinking of classical music as the pinnacle of refinement, culture and sophistication. Any other traditional music, be it folk, tribal, or world music, is less than. Simpler, easier, and somehow rustic.

A turning point in my life, was when I sat with the Senegalese legend Solo Cissokho, and we prepared for a workshop with SaPa students, and he told me how young children are brought into the West African music tradition.

The Griots, in West African villages are musicians, storytellers, entertainers, and keepers of culture in what is essentially an oral tradition. They hold an important status in the social hierarchy, keeping traditions alive.

When a young child is being initiated, s/he must first learn to make an instrument such as a Kora (a traditional fretted stringed instrument). Only once one can make a Kora, will they be taught how to play it. First the rhythm strings, which keep the tempo, and then the melody strings. The student must also learn how to play the djembe (a single headed drum played by hand) and memorise and sing over 100 songs. Also, in the African tradition, music is never just music – it is also accompanied by dance. Once a student has assimilated the knowledge of how to make the instrument, learned to play it and other instruments, mastered traditional songs and dance, s/he must appear and present the repertoire before a strict council of elders, who can either deem the student fit, or send him/her back for further training.

So even before a young griot is allowed to perform, he must already obtain a certain level of mastery. This requires relentless hard work, high skill levels in multiple domains, creativity, and a tremendous memory. To believe that this (tribal/folk) music, is somehow easier or simpler than classical music (Western or Indian), is hopefully just because of ignorance and nothing worse. We need to make sure our children are less ignorant than we were, and give them exposure to global culture.

At a most fundamental level, every music can be called folk music, because it is music from and of people. We need to stop ascribing differing values to different styles of music, and just accept and appreciate different musical styles as they are.

Kamblihula has caught the attention of Sandalwood celebrities

A few actors, producers, and directors rave about debutant Naveen Sreenivas's teenage romantic drama

CE FEATURES

KAMBLIHULA, which was released on November 4, slowly and steadily garnered attention among the audience and Sandalwood celebrities.

Appreciation has been pouring in from various personalities including producer, Rockline Venkatesh, actors Abishek Ambareesh, Pramod of Ratnan Prapancha fame, Sathish Ninasam, and Ayogya director Mahesh Kumar. Everyone had good things to say about the film and has lauded it as a genuine attempt by debutant director Naveen Sreenivas, in his very first film, and is audience friendly. A teenage romance starring Anjan Nagendra and Ashwitha Hegde as leads is set in the background of Malenadu.

Director Naveen has penned the story, screenplay, and dialogues of the film, which has Rohit Kumar, Deepak Rai Panaji, and Sandhya Ninasam playing supporting roles. The film is backed by Grey Square Studios and has music by Shivaprasad.

Kannada cinema has set high standards: Shivarajkumar

Speaking at the trailer launch event of Raymo, the Hattrick hero who praised Kantara hopes to see Pavan Wadeyar's upcoming directorial becoming a success

CE FEATURES

AT the trailer launch of Pavan Wadeyar's upcoming directorial, Raymo, Shivarajkumar spoke about the sky-high expectations for the film. Talking about the leads Ishaan and Ashika Ranganath, Shivarajkumar said that he was happy about the way the actors are progressing in their respective careers. "Kannada cinema has set high standards today, and Kantara is a pride for all of us. I pray to God that Raymo also is another superhit coming from the Kannada industry," mentions Shivarajkumar, who added the importance of having producers like CR Manohar in Sandalwood.

TK DAYANAND'S SECOND FILM WILL BE A MYSTERIOUS MAFIA TALE

The noted director-writer of Benkipatna will be helming a violent film, based on a true incident set in the 80s

A SHARADHAA

TK Dayanand, the director of the critically acclaimed Benkipatna rose to fame for writing Bell Bottom and Act 1978. He is also penning the script of the yet-to-be-released Ashoka Blade starring Sathish Ninasam, an untitled film starring Abishek Ambareesh and directed by Mahesh Kumar, Bell Bottom 2, and a web series.

Dayanand will now be back to directing his second film. The director's next outing will have a high dose of violence and touch upon a real-life incident that happened in 1988 in a town between Kerala and the Karnataka border. "This is a mysterious mafia tale, that has never been told on the silver screen," says Dayanand, who has completed the script, and is finalising the star cast for the film. "Vasishta Simha is on board, and I'm planning to approach Dhananjay soon. An official announcement about the project's technicians will be made once I finalise the rest of the cast."

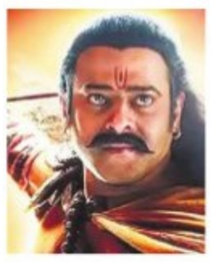
Adipurush gets a release date

CE FEATURES

PRABHAS' much-awaited big-budget film, Adipurush, directed by Om Raut, was supposed to hit the screens on January 12, 2023. However, there were reports suggesting that the makers were planning to reschedule the release plans, and come at a later date.



Confirming these speculations, the makers released a statement that said Adipurush will be released on June 16, 2023.

The statement read, "Adipurush is not a film, but a representation of our devotion to Prabhu Shri Ram and commitment towards our sanskriti and history. In order to give a complete visual experience to the viewers, we need to give more time to the teams working on the film.

Adipurush will now release on June 16, 2023. We are committed to make a film that India will be proud of. Your support, love, and blessings are what keep us going."

The reworking of the release plan was allegedly the result of the criticism that were made against the VFX quality in the teaser that was released recently. It is safe to assume that the makers are indeed looking to rework on the visual quality of the big-budget project.

The latest retelling of the Ramayana also stars Kriti Sanon, Saif Ali Khan and Sunny Singh in prominent roles.

Meanwhile, Prabhas has Salaar with Prashanth Neel and Project K with Nag Ashwin coming up.

John Wick spinoff Ballerina, starring Ana de Armas, starts production

CE FEATURES

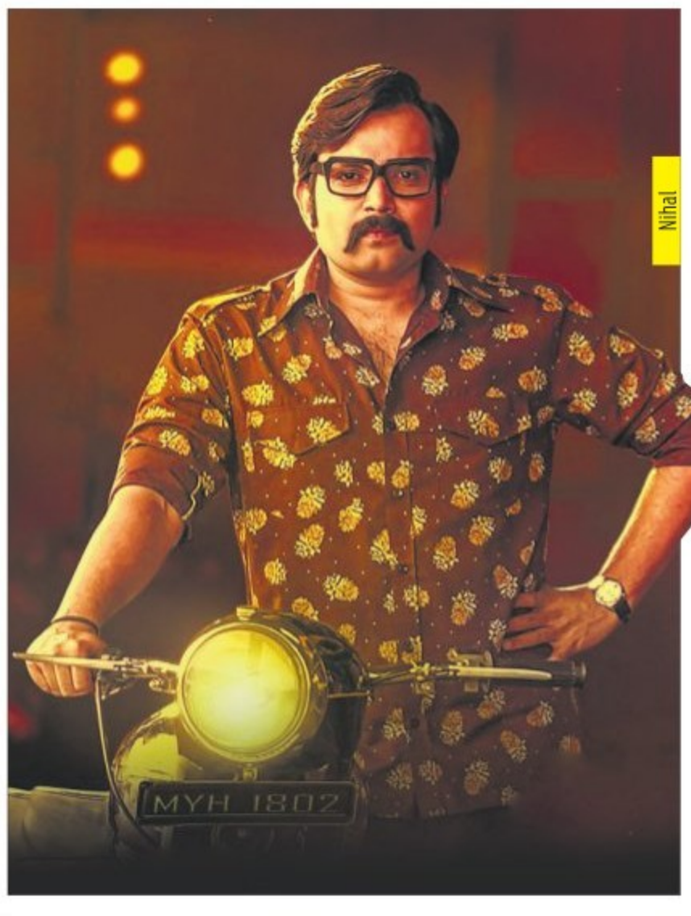
IT was previously announced that Ana de Armas will lead the John Wick spinoff film titled Ballerina. Lionsgate CEO Jon Feltheimer had announced in the recently concluded investors meet that the film will start production next week.

Armas is known for appearing in critically acclaimed films like Blade Runner 2049, Knives Out, and the recently released Marilyn Monroe biopic Blonde. The massive box office success of the Keanu Reeves-led John Wick films have spawned a series and a film. Along with Ballerina, a prequel series starring Colin Woodell in the lead titled The Continental was also announced.

Ballerina revolves around the ballet school that fronts as a training school for assassins, it was introduced in the third film in the series titled John Wick: Parabellum. The film will follow Aramas' character taking revenge against those who killed her family.

The series will be directed by Len Wiseman who is best known for making the Underworld film series. Ballerina is based on a script written by Shay Hatten, he had previously written the screenplay for films like Army of the Dead and is currently working on John Wick: Chapter 4 and Zack Snyder's space opera film Rebel Moon.

Watching Nihal reminded me of my younger days: Vijay Sankeshwar



Nihal

CE FEATURES

VIJAYANAND, directed by Rishika Sharma, is a biopic on famous businessman Vijay Sankeshwar. The Kannada film is gearing up for release on December 9, and it will be dubbed and released in Telugu, Tamil, Hindi, and Malayalam.

The release date was officially announced by the makers during the audio launch event, which had Sharan and Harshika Poonacha as the guests. A song titled Haage Aada Aalingana was released in Kannada and Hindi on Sunday. The song is composed by famous Malayalam music director Gopi Sundar, The musician, who has associated with over 300 films is making his Kannada debut with Vijayanand. Written by Dhananjay Ranjan, Haage Aada Aalingana is sung by Vijay Prakash and Keertana Vaidyanathan.

Speaking at the song launch event, Vijay Sankeshwar said that he initially hesitated when director Rishika Sharma expressed her wish to make a film based on his life. "I appreciate Rishika for her good efforts. She has done a good movie, which is produced by my son Anand Sankeshwar. Most of us in the family are entrepreneurs. My father was shocked when I told him I will start a transport business. My business, which started with just a single lorry, has grown to a huge scale today. The strength behind me is my wife Lalita. I told the director that the film should reflect the reality of my life. There should be nothing extra added to the film. Watching Nihal on screen reminds me of my younger days. That moustache, and colorful shirts... that's how I was at that age. The heroine Siri Prahlad also resembles my wife. May this film inspire the youth."

Apart from Siri Prahalad and Nihal, Vijayanand has Bharath Bopanna and Archana Kottige in pivotal roles.
